HARD FIGHTING RAGES IN TRIPOLI

Democrats Quit All-Out SUB Fight; Noble Is Confirmed

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS (AP)—Faced with an announced lack of support from organized labor, most minority Democrats in the Ohio Legislature have abandoned a planned all-out fight to legalize payment of supplemental unemployment benefits.

There still will be a lot of oratory, but the zip is gone.

An Ohio AFL-CIO news release, issued at the convening hour of a special session of the Legislature Wednesday, cut the ground from under the feet of the Democrats. It said:

"We do not believe it is necessary for the special session of the state Legislature to consider legislation on the payment of supplemental benefits because we maintain the present law permits supplementation."

SUB cases are being appealed now before the Ohio Supreme Court because Mahoning County courts held that simultaneous SUB and state jobless payments are legal under present Ohio law.

The AFL-CIO release took all the steam out of the Democrats' plan to talk up a legislative storm with the warning: "Legislative action might confuse the situation."

At the same time, a House committee beat down attempts to consider the SUB question.

As the Legislature continued work today, Rep. Kline Roberts (R-Franklin), House majority leader, introduced the bill to permit municipalities to issue 40-year general obligation bonds for sewer construction. The present limit is 25 years.

The House then recessed until 1:30 p. m. without taking any further actions.

* * *

MEANWHILE, the heavily GOP-dominated Legislature ground steadily ahead on Gov. C. William O'Neill's program for quick action to ease unemployment and state financial problems.

In a 26-minute message to the General Assembly, O'Neill asked another six million dollars to stretch state relief money until the regular session next January. He also urged lawmakers to extend the period of unemployment compensation eligibility until next April from the present 26 weeks to 39 weeks—a move he estimated would pour another 40 million dollars into the state's recession-hit economy.

The AFL-CIO stand on SUB did not prevent House Democrats from introducing a bill to permit simultaneous payment of SUB and state jobless benefits. Chances are, however, the proposal will get nowhere.

House Democrats also offered bills to increase the state jobless benefit limit from $39 maximum to $50 for workers with families and to permit college students to draw unemployment compensation.

* * *

ALL THE BILLS to carry through O'Neill's special session program were introduced in the House, none in the Senate.

The Senate received names of 86 appointees for confirmation. They included Dr. Robert A. Haines as director of mental hygiene and correction, who was promptly confirmed.

Charles M. Noble was confirmed as highway director 28-4, but only after an hour of bitter political battling.

He waited a year to gain official Ohio residence, then almost a half-year more because the legality of his appointment was questioned, before he achieved director status.

In the interim, he was Gov. C. William O'Neill's special secre-

Ike, Dulles Call Red Hand

U.S. Experts Slated For Talks July 1st.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States called the Soviet Union's propaganda hand today and notified Moscow that U.S. experts will be in Geneva July 1 as agreed for technical atomic talks.

The U.S. move was agreed upon at a White House meeting Wednesday night between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

It seemed likely that, unless the Soviet Union also showed up for the meeting, the Kremlin would be trapped in a backfire of its own cold war maneuvering.

Western diplomats were surprised Wednesday that the Soviet Union did an about-face less than 24 hours after indicating it would have Soviet and East European experts on hand at Geneva, where the technical talks are due to open next Tuesday.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a note saying Soviet nuclear experts would not attend unless the United States took a position in advance that a ban on nuclear weapons tests is needed. Some U.S. experts already were en route to Geneva.

The Geneva talks are planned to discuss possible methods of policing any East-West agreement to ban such tests.

Dulles has said the talks should be purely technical, steering clear of international political matters.

Eisenhower cut short a golf game for a hurried conference with Dulles. The decision was to go ahead.

But it also was agreed to send a note overnight telling the Soviet Union to show up at Geneva on schedule or stand exposed as trying to squeeze concessions out of the United States without really being interested in halting atomic tests under adequate safeguards against cheating.

Wildlife Council Expands Hatchery

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Council has approved an option on 73 acres for the site of a proposed fish hatchery in Guernsey County.

The council's action Wednesday, if the sale is carried through, will expand the hatchery grounds to 139 acres. The hatchery will be used for breeding muskellunge.

The council, the policy-setting body of the wildlife division, also approved plans to build five finger docks at Oak Point on Lake Erie's South Bass Island.

Old Heads in GOP Are Sure Adams To Leave White House

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever the surface signs may say, a substantial segment of the old pros of the Republican party have convinced themselves that Sherman Adams is not long for the White House.

This runs contrary to the clear signs President Eisenhower has given that he needs his top assistant and intends to keep him at his right hand.

However, among many of those planning the forthcoming congressional election campaign, the belief persists that steps are being taken to smooth—eventual exit of Adams.

These men are busy revising campaign strategy because of disclosures that Adams accepted costly favors from Bernard Goldfine of Boston.

One of these strategists, who has maintained friendly relations with Adams, said a concerted effort now is under way to diffuse the attacks on the presidential assistant by reviving influence charges made against Democrats.

The administration has made some strenuous efforts to get Republicans to defend Adams. But it hasn't been able to muster much support among Congress members seeking re-election.

Some Republican strategists hope the President's aide will regard himself as sufficiently vindicated to take himself out of the campaign picture.

They are convinced that even if there remains no valid challenge to his integrity, the Goldfine-paid hotel bills, the gift vicuna coat and the loaned $2,400 Orienta rug will be much hotter campaign issues if Adams remains in the White House than if he leaves.

Clergy Faces Hard Road in Modern World

CHICAGO (AP)—A Roman Catholic bishop today said a young man's road to a career in the clergy is a difficult one in the modern world.

Bishop John King Mussio of Steubenville, Ohio, said "the poison of our secular age has seeped into the minds of men, into the home, into the community, into the very spirit of the times."

The bishop gave the keynote address at the convention of Serra International, an organization of laymen who encourage qualified young people to become priests and nuns.

"The salacious, downright filthy literature that for so long a time cluttered up bookstands unmolested by any official action and still clings to so much of our reading matter is anything but conducive to the upright thinking of our young people," he said.

"These movies which still cater to prurient interests through so many foreign importations and in the survival theory of some short-sighted theater managers do not contribute to the right molding of young character."

Bishop Mussio also struck at excesses in drinking, gambling, and sex and graft, embezzlement and business trickery.

"However, Christ will not let us down," he said. "We have his pledge that a delinquent community will not be able to foul up the work of the priesthood."

O'Neill Refuses Union's Request

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill today said no to a union leader on the issue of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

The governor turned down a request by James B. Carey, president of the United Electrical Union for the state to withdraw its appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court from lower court decisions in SUB test cases.

Carey and union leaders from Dayton conferred with the governor for more than an hour. The others were E. J. Kraft and Wes Steinhilber, both officials of the electrical union.

After the meeting, O'Neill said: "I told him I knew of no way that the matter can be resolved except by a decision of the Supreme Court."

James Hysell Admits Safe Burglaries to Sheriff

The burglary of the Fred Mavis service station and Laurelville Grain & Mill Co. has been solved. Three days of intensive day and night investigation and questioning by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department paid off in a confession last night.

James Hysell, 23, Route 4, admitted he and brother Paul Hysell, 34, Columbus, were involved in the two safe burglaries. They took $816 from the Laurelville mill but the Fred Mavis burglary was thwarted by a citizen who spotted the burglary in progress Hysell said.

Young Hysell said he and his brother committed both jobs. He signed a statement to that effect last night.

Separate charges of breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling in the night season and accusations of forcing entrance to a safe were filed against the two brothers at about noon today.

* * *

THE AFFIDAVITS were signed by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. The complaints were lodged by Mavis.

The entire sheriff's staff worked on the case, including Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Deputies Dwight Radcliff, Charles Felkey, Robert Hoover and John Wolford.

They were assisted by Thomas Wagner, investigator for the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, London.

* * *

FIRST TIP-OFF connecting the Hysells with the burglary came from a local man who spotted them around the Mavis service station early last Sunday morning.

When he went to investigate flashing lights in the place, he was shot at and two men fled the scene. However, the witness spotted a car and obtained the license number. This tip led to the arrest of the Hysells.

James' confession last night exonerated brother Thomas, 33, Columbus. He was released. James and Thomas were picked up in Columbus Monday for questioning. Paul eluded officers for a day, but was nabbed by the State Highway Patrol near Centerburg in Knox County Tuesday.

Paul has not admitted any connection with the crimes.

Paul was paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary last year. He is well-known in Central Ohio as the "greyhound", because of his speed and agility in evading capture by police.

Sheriff Radcliff has ordered special precautions in the handling of Paul Hysell, since he has a record of jail escapes.

Paul Hysell's criminal record dates back to 1939 when he was sentenced to the Boys Industrial School for burglary. He was returned to the BIS for a series of 40 burglaries.

He escaped the BIS, but was captured and sent to Mansfield Reformatory. In 1947 Hysell was arrested in Tampa, Fla. to be returned to Ohio on burglary charges. He was shot by officers when he tried to escape.

* * *

ON HIS RETURN to Ohio he pleaded guilty to 17 counts of burglary and three charges of auto theft. He was sent to the London Prison Farm and escaped from there in 1952. A year later he was arrested in South Carolina for possession of burglary tools and sentenced to a year. When he was released he was brought back to Ohio to finish his sentence and was released last year.

Columbus police reported that Hysell may have conducted a "school for burglars" back in 1947.

James Hysell has no previous police record. He is married and has two children. The Hysells live on Route 56, about midway between Circleville and Laurelville. He has been employed at the Swift & Co. plant in Columbus.

Young Hysell would not admit any connection with the crimes for two days. Last night he was confronted by evidence and statements of his relatives and the witness and finally told the whole story.

Vanguard Fired, Falls Back to Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another "basketball" satellite was boosted into space by a Vanguard rocket today. Then, like its two predecessors, the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere plunged back to earth.

Failure of the Vanguard's second stage to ignite was blamed by the Naval Research Laboratory.

The 72-foot Navy rocket now has failed in five of its six tries. Its only success was chalked up March 17, when it launched the 3½-pound "grapefruit" satellite, tiniest of the man-made moons circling the earth.

Immediately in the wake of this latest failure came news from General Electric Co. that it is developing a new rocket engine capable of launching a satellite weighing as much as 20,000 pounds —almost seven times bigger than the Soviet Sputnik III.

This engine, the company said, will generate up to a million pounds of thrust. This compares with 45,000 pounds for the Vanguard.

Components of the engine now are being tested by GE at Malta, N. Y. It will be powered by liquid oxygen and kerosene.

The latest Vanguard blasted off at 12:01 a. m. after delays of 2½ hours in the countdown.

Its first stage functioned nicely, carrying the entire assembly 35 miles up before burning out at the proper moment. By then, it was out of sight.

Half an hour later, the Navy announced that the second stage, which houses the whole guidance "brain" of the rocket, did not ignite and so did not achieve the necessary 300-mile altitude and the 18,000-mile-an-hour velocity required to put its satellite into orbit.

Van Wert Phone Rate Goes Up

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Utilities Commission today granted the Van Wert Telephone Co. a $39,500 annual increase in rates.

The company had asked for $46,647 which would bring local service rates for its 5,000 subscribers 24 per cent above those now in effect.

The rate increase granted today represents a 19 per cent increase.

During a short public hearing April 22, George B. Quatman of Lima, general manager of the company, said higher rates were necessary because of increased operating expenses. No one showed up to protest the requst.

Liquor Chief Likes Policy On Pinballs

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state liquor director today commended the Ohio Board of Liquor Control for what he called its "new firm policy" in dealing with alcoholic beverage permit holders who pay off pinball machine winners.

The director, Floyd C. Moon, wrote a letter to the board saying in part:

"Your recent policy to revoke or impose heavy suspensions of the permit privileges of those permit holders who pay off winners on pinball machines in cash or free games is commendable. We in the Ohio Department of Liquor Control welcome it as a tremendous aid to our enforcement program."

The board last week revoked five permits and dealt out stiff 70-day suspensions to 10 other permit holders found to be paying off on the machines.

Under an Ohio Supreme Court ruling, any pinball machine which pays off in free games is considered a gambling device.

Adams Probe Witness Tells Of 'Powerful Influences'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former publisher John Fox testified today that "powerful and malign influences" were exerted against him from the federal government. He suggested the object was to eliminate his now-defunct Boston Post.

And, Fox told House investigators, the federal forces "were not unconnected with the Boston Herald Traveler Corp. and Bernard Goldfine."

A special House investigating subcommittee allowed Fox to begin testifying in public despite objections by Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine contended through his lawyers that Fox's testimony could be expected to defame him. He asked that it be taken in closed session.

The committee decided on an open hearing but under an agreement that Fox would give notice if he were about to defame someone. On such notice, the committee would decide whether to go into closed session.

"I did not know the source of these pressures nor the reason for them," Fox went on, "unless their object was to eliminate the Boston Post, which was the only major newspaper in the United States that supported Harry S. Truman in 1948."

* * *

THE PRESSURES, Fox said, resulted in forced liquidation of about 13 million dollars in bank loans which were well-secured by marketable securities.

Fox has been named as the source of the first allegations entered into the record of the special House subcommittee that Goldfine got special federal treatment through friendship with Sherman Adams.

In the ensuing storm, Adams acknowledged accepting expensive favors from Goldfine. But he denied using his post to swing preferred treatment for his friend.

Fox is a storm petrel of the financial world who once published the now-defunct Boston Post. He is under committee subpoena.

* * *

AT PRESENT FOX is free on bond under a libel charge from an opponent in a Pennsylvania business dispute.

Goldfine's lawyers pointed to Fox's arrest in Pittsburgh June 24 on the libel charge in making a surprise request to Subcommittee chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark).

The Goldfine attorneys, declaring court records show Fox is bent on "false and reckless accusations" against Goldfine, asked for use of a House rule which requires closed sessions when a committee decides testimony "may tend to defame, degrade or incriminate any person."

The congressmen pursued Wednesday their check of the Securities and Exchange Commission, a regulatory agency which had troubles from 1948 to 1956 in getting Goldfine's East Boston Co. to file required financial reports.

In a hot-tempered session, former SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong denied any favoritism to Goldfine. He contended SEC could have pushed its case faster if Congress had voted SEC more money.

Rebel Leader Denies Troops March on City

Beirut Quiet after Several Hours of Firing Wednesday

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT (AP) — Hard fighting raged for more than four hours today in the port of Tripoli. At least 6 persons were killed and 20 injured.

Omar Karomi, a rebel leader, told the Associated Press by telephone that the fighting broke out at noon and quickly spread to the central section of the city. Karomi is a brother of rebel leader Raschid Karomi.

"The fighting reached a climax about 3 p. m.," Karomi said. Then it slacked off, but shooting was still going on at 4 p. m.

Karomi denied Cairo radio reports that strong rebel reinforcements are marching on Tripoli. Tripoli is the city where the Lebanese rebellion started 48 days ago.

Fighting went on in the city all Wednesday night. An army communique said it started when rebels opened fire on army positions and civilians. The rebels said the government forces employed armored cars to blast rebel road blocks in the city.

Night skirmishes also were reported from the Bekaa Valley in central Lebanon.

* * *

BEIRUT, HOWEVER, was quiet after several hours of firing Wednesday. Chamoun predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault in 48 hours.

Hammarskjold flew back to New York carrying an urgent request from Premier Sami Solh for the U.N. to send an emergency force to Lebanon. An unofficial truce had prevailed during the secretary general's one-week visit.

Solh asked Hammarskjold for an armed international force to replace the present corps of less than 100 observers and seal Lebanon's borders against aid and reinforcements to the rebels from neighboring Syria.

Hammarskjold was expected to relay the request to the Security Council.

Probability of a Soviet veto in the Security Council of the proposal caused Western diplomats at U.N. headquarters to predict an emergency session of the General Assembly.

The Assembly could act without a veto to send in international troops. But whether it could act in time to do Chamoun's government any good was another matter.

Chamoun said that if the U.N. fails to help him, he may call on the United States and Britain to provide direct aid under the U.N. charter provision for collective defense.

The Soviet Union has warned against either a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon or direct U.S.-British intervention.

Cypriot Leader Ignores Blast From England

ATHENS (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots seeking an end to British rule of their island, turned the other cheek today to the head of the Church of England.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the Archbishop of Canterbury, said in London that everyone knows Makarios is a bad character. "I regard with abhorrence his general political behavior and his association with terrorism" in the Cypriot campaign for union with Greece, Dr. Fisher said.

Makarios said, "I do not wish to hurt the archbishop in any way and for this reason I shall refrain from making any comment."

HARD FIGHTING RAGES IN TRIPOLI

Democrats Quit All-Out SUB Fight; Noble Is Confirmed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Faced with an announced lack of support from organized labor, most minority Democrats in the Ohio Legislature have abandoned a planned all-out fight to legalize payment of supplemental unemployment benefits.

There still will be a lot of oratory, but the zip is gone.

An Ohio AFL-CIO news release, issued at the convening hour of a special session of the Legislature Wednesday, cut the ground from under the feet of the Democrats. It said:

Paul was paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary last year. He is well-known in Central Ohio as the "greyhound", because of his speed and agility in evading capture by police.

Sheriff Radcliff has ordered special precautions in the handling of Paul Hysell, since he has a record of jail escapes.

Paul Hysell's criminal record dates back to 1939 when he was sentenced to the Boys Industrial School for burglary. He was returned to the BIS for a series of 40 burglaries.

He escaped the BIS, but was captured and sent to Mansfield Reformatory. In 1947 Hysell was arrested in Tampa, Fla. to be returned to Ohio on burglary charges. He was shot by officers when he tried to escape.

• • •

ON HIS RETURN to Ohio he pleaded guilty to 17 counts of burglary and three charges of auto theft. He was sent to the London Prison Farm and escaped from there in 1952. A year later he was arrested in South Carolina for possession of burglary tools and sentenced to a year. When he was released he was brought back to Ohio to finish his sentence and was released last year.

Columbus police reported that Hysell may have conducted a "school for burglars" back in 1947.

James Hysell has no previous police record. He is married and has two children. The Hysells live on Route 56, about midway between Circleville and Laurelville. He has been employed at the Swift & Co. plant in Columbus.

Young Hysell would not admit any connection with the crimes for two days. Last night he was confronted by evidence and statements of his relatives and the witness and finally told the whole story.

Vanguard Fired, Falls Back to Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another "basketball" satellite was boosted into space by a Vanguard rocket today. Then, like its two predecessors, the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere plunged back to earth.

Failure of the Vanguard's second stage to ignite was blamed by the Naval Research Laboratory.

The 72-foot Navy rocket now has failed in five of its six tries. Its only success was chalked up March 17, when it launched the 3½-pound "grapefruit" satellite, tiniest of the man-made moons circling the earth.

Immediately in the wake of this latest failure came news from General Electric Co. that it is developing a new rocket engine capable of launching a satellite weighing as much as 20,000 pounds —almost seven times bigger than the Soviet Sputnik III.

This engine, the company said, will generate up to a million pounds of thrust. This compares with 45,000 pounds for the Vanguard.

Components of the engine now are being tested by GE at Malta, N. Y. It will be powered by liquid oxygen and kerosene.

The latest Vanguard blasted off at 12:01 a. m. after delays of 2½ hours in the countdown.

Its first stage functioned nicely, carrying the entire assembly 35 miles up before burning out at the proper moment. By then, it was out of sight.

Half an hour later, the Navy announced that the second stage, which houses the whole guidance "brain" of the rocket, did not ignite and so did not achieve the necessary 300-mile altitude and the 18,000-mile-an-hour velocity required to put its satellite into orbit.

Van Wert Phone Rate Goes Up

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Utilities Commission today granted the Van Wert Telephone Co. a $39,500 annual increase in rates.

The company had asked for $46,647 which would bring local service rates for its 5,000 subscribers 24 per cent above those now in effect.

The rate increase granted today represents a 19 per cent increase.

During a short public hearing April 22, George B. Quatman of Lima, general manager of the company, said higher rates were necessary because of increased operating expenses. No one showed up to protest the requst.

Liquor Chief Likes Policy On Pinballs

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state liquor director today commended the Ohio Board of Liquor Control for what he called its "new firm policy" in dealing with alcoholic beverage permit holders who pay off pinball machine winners.

The director, Floyd C. Moon, wrote a letter to the board saying in part:

"Your recent policy to revoke or impose heavy suspensions of the permit privileges of those permit holders who pay off winners on pinball machines in cash or free games is commendable. We in the Ohio Department of Liquor Control welcome it as a tremendous aid to our enforcement program."

The board last week revoked five permits and dealt out stiff 70-day suspensions to 10 other permit holders found to be paying off on the machines.

Under an Ohio Supreme Court ruling, any pinball machine which pays off in free games is considered a gambling device.

Adams Probe Witness Tells Of 'Powerful Influences'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former publisher John Fox testified today that "powerful and malign influences" were exerted against him from the federal government. He suggested the object was to eliminate his now-defunct Boston Post.

And, Fox told House investigators, the federal forces "were not unconnected with the Boston Herald Traveler Corp. and Bernard Goldfine."

A special House investigating subcommittee allowed Fox to begin testifying in public despite objections by Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine contended through his lawyers that Fox's testimony could be expected to defame him. He asked that it be taken in closed session.

The committee decided on an open hearing but under an agreement that Fox would give notice if he were about to defame someone. On such notice, the committee would decide whether to go into closed session.

"I did not know the source of these pressures nor the reason for them," Fox went on, "unless their object was to eliminate the Boston Post, which was the only major newspaper in the United States that supported Harry S. Truman in 1948."

• • •

THE PRESSURES, Fox said, resulted in forced liquidation of about 13 million dollars in bank loans which were well-secured by marketable securities.

Fox has been named as the source of the first allegations entered into the record of the special House subcommittee that Goldfine got special federal treatment through friendship with Sherman Adams.

In the ensuing storm, Adams acknowledged accepting expensive favors from Goldfine. But he denied using his post to swing preferred treatment for his friend.

Fox is a storm petrel of the financial world who once published the now-defunct Boston Post. He is under committee subpoena.

• • •

AT PRESENT FOX is free on bond under a libel charge from an opponent in a Pennsylvania business dispute.

Goldfine's lawyers pointed to Fox's arrest in Pittsburgh June 24 on the libel charge in making a surprise request to Subcommittee chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark).

The Goldfine attorneys, declaring court records show Fox is bent on "false and reckless accusations" against Goldfine, asked for use of a House rule which requires closed sessions when a committee decides testimony "may tend to defame, degrade or incriminate any person."

The congressmen pursued Wednesday their check of the Securities and Exchange Commission, a regulatory agency which had troubles from 1948 to 1956 in getting Goldfine's East Boston Co. to file required financial reports.

In a hot-tempered session, former SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong denied any favoritism to Goldfine. He contended SEC could have pushed its case faster if Congress had voted SEC more money.

Rebel Leader Denies Troops March on City

Beirut Quiet after Several Hours of Firing Wednesday

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT (AP) — Hard fighting raged for more than four hours today in the port of Tripoli. At least 6 persons were killed and 20 injured.

Omar Karomi, a rebel leader, told the Associated Press by telephone that the fighting broke out at noon and quickly spread to the central section of the city. Karomi is a brother of rebel leader Raschid Karomi.

"The fighting reached a climax about 3 p. m.," Karomi said. Then it slacked off, but shooting was still going on at 4 p. m.

Karomi denied Cairo radio reports that strong rebel reinforcements are marching on Tripoli. Tripoli is the city where the Lebanese rebellion started 48 days ago.

Fighting went on in the city all Wednesday night. An army communique said it started when rebels opened fire on army positions and civilians. The rebels said the government forces employed armored cars to blast rebel road blocks in the city.

Night skirmishes also were reported from the Bekaa Valley in central Lebanon.

• • •

BEIRUT, HOWEVER, was quiet after several hours of firing Wednesday. Chamoun predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault in 48 hours.

Hammarskjold flew back to New York carrying an urgent request from Premier Sami Solh for the U.N. to send an emergency force to Lebanon. An unofficial truce had prevailed during the secretary general's one-week visit.

Solh asked Hammarskjold for an armed international force to replace the present corps of less than 100 observers and seal Lebanon's borders against aid and reinforcements to the rebels from neighboring Syria.

Hammarskjold was expected to relay the request to the Security Council.

Probability of a Soviet veto in the Security Council of the proposal caused Western diplomats at U.N. headquarters to predict an emergency session of the General Assembly.

The Assembly could act without a veto to send in international troops. But whether it could act in time to do Chamoun's government any good was another matter.

Chamoun said that if the U.N. fails to help him, he may call on the United States and Britain to provide direct aid under the U.N. charter provision for collective defense.

The Soviet Union has warned against either a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon or direct U.S.-British intervention.

Cypriot Leader Ignores Blast From England

ATHENS (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots seeking an end to British rule of their island, turned the other cheek today to the head of the Church of England.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the Archbishop of Canterbury, said in London that everyone knows Makarios is a bad character. "I regard with abhorrence his general political behavior and his association with terrorism" in the Cypriot campaign for union with Greece, Dr. Fisher said.

Makarios said, "I do not wish to hurt the archbishop in any way and for this reason I shall refrain from making any comment."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee today threw the names of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and the Lake County, Ind., prosecutor into a surprise investigation of the Indiana highway scandals.

McClellan announced Hoffa will be summoned as a witness later.

Storm Hits Narrow Belt Across Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gale-force winds whipped a thunderstorm from the west across northeastern Ohio Wednesday night and caused thousands of dollars damage to power and telephone lines. At least five persons were hurt, none seriously.

The winds, clocked at up to 66 m.p.h. in guests, uprooted trees and tore off limbs.

Hardest-hit communities in this area were Cleveland Heights, South Euclid, East Cleveland, the east side of Cleveland, Lyndhurst, Kirtland Hills, Kirtland Twp. and Berea.

Trees were felled and power cut in several areas of Akron. Half of Jefferson in Ashtabula County was without power. Part of Warren was darkened. Some dirt roads in Ashtabula County were flooded.

Some 5,000 customers of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. were left without power as tree limbs slammed into utility poles and wires.

Damage to CEI equipment and overtime wages for crews was estimated by a spokesman to be at least $50,000. The estimate probably will rise as the extent of the damage becomes clearer today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Cleveland Hopkins Airport reported .81 of an inch of rain fell from 2 p. m. Wednesday until 2 a. m. today.

Old Newspaper Dated in 1884

Clark Lovett, Kingston, was able to get an accurate description of Circleville and Pickaway County, 19th century version, when he recently found a local newspaper dated 1884.

The paper was found at the Sara Stebelton estate, Stoutsville. The edition was one printed by the old Circleville Democrat and Watchman.

The copy contains an obituary on a member of the Stebelton family.

Agree on Bill To Eliminate Freight Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed today on a compromise tax extension bill eliminating the 3 per cent excise tax on freight.

The House conferees yielded to the Senate on the freight tax repeal.

Representatives of the Senate, which had voted the freight tax cut and also a reduction in the 10 per cent levy on passenger fares, gave up the passenger fare cut.

The compromise involves a revenue loss of approximately 450 million dollars.

In addition, another 35 million dollars of taxes on pipeline transportation of oil and gas would be repealed.

The compromise bill now goes to Senate and House for action expected later today.

The 3 per cent freight tax covers transportation of all forms of freight and 4 cents a ton on the transportation of coal. The pipeline excise is 4½ per cent on oil and gas at the wellhead.

As conferees went into closed-door conference, members disclosed that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson was insisting on a straight one-year extension of excises and the corporate income tax without repeal of the transportation tax.

The House voted to continue until next year the 52 per cent business income tax and excises at their present rates to prevent a $2,600,000,000 revenue loss.

The Senate, however, added provisions repealing the 10 per cent federal tax on passenger tickets and the 3 per cent tax on freight.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he was standing on the House version in the light of lower federal tax revenues.

The 52 per cent corporate income tax is now scheduled to drop to 47 per cent next Monday.

The excises, also due to drop Monday in the absence of a new law, apply to cigarettes, whisky, beer, wines, automobiles, auto parts and accessories.

Military Defers Air Control Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the military services have agreed to defer their plans to make full use of CAA air traffic control facilities.

The agency said handling military planes, along with airline requirements, would have imposed a demand on the CAA system that could not have been managed without severe delays to all air traffic.

The CAA said plans of the airlines and the military services to increase their reliance on ground control, by means on instrument flight rule operations, have been coordinated and agreed upon to provide the best possible use of the present CAA control system.

9 Prisoners Of Reds Said 'On Vacation'

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany reported today that nine U.S. Army prisoners are living in comfort on an "enforced vacation."

Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer said the Army men were getting "absolute correct treatment."

In an exclusive interview, Winzer gave this first report on the handling of the American prisoners who strayed across the border in a helicopter.

Winzer said his regime stood ready to return the Army men and their helicopter quickly if a fully accredited U.S. government delegate would sign an agreement covering the handover.

The United States has refused to sign such an accord, holding that it would imply diplomatic recognition of the German satellite regime.

The nine Army men—eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany, fell into East German hands June 7 when their helicopter became lost in a storm.

Storm Hits Narrow Belt Across Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gale-force winds whipped a thunderstorm from the west across northeastern Ohio Wednesday night and caused thousands of dollars damage to power and telephone lines. At least five persons were hurt, none seriously.

The winds, clocked at up to 66 m.p.h. in guests, uprooted trees and tore off limbs.

Hardest-hit communities in this area were Cleveland Heights, South Euclid, East Cleveland, the east side of Cleveland, Lyndhurst, Kirtland Hills, Kirtland Twp. and Berea.

Trees were felled and power cut in several areas of Akron. Half of Jefferson in Ashtabula County was without power. Part of Warren was darkened. Some dirt roads in Ashtabula County were flooded.

Some 5,000 customers of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. were left without power as tree limbs slammed into utility poles and wires.

Damage to CEI equipment and overtime wages for crews was estimated by a spokesman to be at least $50,000. The estimate probably will rise as the extent of the damage becomes clearer today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Cleveland Hopkins Airport reported .81 of an inch of rain fell from 2 p. m. Wednesday until 2 a. m. today.

Kennedy Urges Alaska Statehood

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) today urged statehood for Alaska as a demonstration to the world "that the United States is able gradually yet effectively to liquidate its colonial relationships."

His endorsement of the House-passed admission bill came as the Senate moved into longer sessions in an effort to speed debate, now in its third day.

Supporters of the bill talked hopefully of getting a final vote by Friday.

Agree on Bill To Eliminate Freight Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed today on a compromise tax extension bill eliminating the 3 per cent excise tax on freight.

The House conferees yielded to the Senate on the freight tax repeal.

Representatives of the Senate, which had voted the freight tax cut and also a reduction in the 10 per cent levy on passenger fares, gave up the passenger fare cut.

The compromise involves a revenue loss of approximately 450 million dollars.

In addition, another 35 million dollars of taxes on pipeline transportation of oil and gas would be repealed.

The compromise bill now goes to Senate and House for action expected later today.

The 3 per cent freight tax covers transportation of all forms of freight and 4 cents a ton on the transportation of coal. The pipeline excise is 4½ per cent on oil and gas at the wellhead.

As conferees went into closed-door conference, members disclosed that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson was insisting on a straight one-year extension of excises and the corporate income tax without repeal of the transportation tax.

The House voted to continue until next year the 52 per cent business income tax and excises at their present rates to prevent a $2,600,000,000 revenue loss.

The Senate, however, added provisions repealing the 10 per cent federal tax on passenger tickets and the 3 per cent tax on freight.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he was standing on the House version in the light of lower federal tax revenues.

The 52 per cent corporate income tax is now scheduled to drop to 47 per cent next Monday.

The excises, also due to drop Monday in the absence of a new law, apply to cigarettes, whisky, beer, wines, automobiles, auto parts and accessories.

Military Defers Air Control Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the military services have agreed to defer their plans to make full use of CAA air traffic control facilities.

The agency said handling military planes, along with airline requirements, would have imposed a demand on the CAA system that could not have been managed without severe delays to all air traffic.

The CAA said plans of the airlines and the military services to increase their reliance on ground control, by means on instrument flight rule operations, have been coordinated and agreed upon to provide the best possible use of the present CAA control system.

Hungary Ousts Lutheran Bishop

BUDAPEST (AP) — Bishop Lajos Ordass, long at odds with Hungary's Communist regime, has been ousted as head of the nation's southern Lutheran bishopric.

Bishop Ordass' ouster leaves the Red government in full control of the religious front unless resistance develops among Lutherans who support him.

9 Prisoners Of Reds Said 'On Vacation'

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany reported today that nine U.S. Army prisoners are living in comfort on an "enforced vacation."

Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer said the Army men were getting "absolute correct treatment."

In an exclusive interview, Winzer gave this first report on the handling of the American prisoners who strayed across the border in a helicopter.

Winzer said his regime stood ready to return the Army men and their helicopter quickly if a fully accredited U.S. government delegate would sign an agreement covering the handover.

The United States has refused to sign such an accord, holding that it would imply diplomatic recognition of the German satellite regime.

The nine Army men—eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany, fell into East German hands June 7 when their helicopter became lost in a storm.

Floridians Win At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy and gorgeous Karol Fageros, a couple of Floridians, caught up with the leaders today in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships by winning second round matches.

Mulloy, 44, of Coral Gables, eliminated John Hurry of South Africa, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Fageros, of Miami, defeated Italy's Silvana Lazzarino, 6-1, 7-5.

In another second round match, Australia's Neale Fraser, routed Foo Mei of Communist China, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

These second rounders had to be held today because of rain which washed out about one-third of the scheduled matches Wednesday.

Will Horseless Buggies Stay?

Maybe there's no state with a law saying a motor car has to have a reverse gear, and maybe that's one reason the 1958 model of the 1901 Oldsmobile is off to a flying —well, a lurching start.

The maker, after all, is the Starts Manufacturing Company, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Must be something in a name. This tiller-steering job is priced at $895, and production is 50 cars a month.

Less than five miles away is this firm's one and only American competitor — since General Motors has shown no interest in tooling up its Oldsmobile division in 1901 style. This competitor, American Air Products Corporation, is building Oldsmobiles of the same vintage —appearance to sell at $1,200. Advertised as "The Car With the Backward Look," this model does 35 miles an hour and gets 65 miles to the gallon of gas. It's no secret the engine is an air-cooled affair of modern design cleverly mounted under the seat.

What if sealed-beam headlights have been fitted into the old-fashioned coal oil lamps—and electric starters are standard equipment? The two outfits in Florida cannot begin to handle all the orders they're getting, they insist. Perhaps they are cutting into sales of foreign cars.

How long will his market last for the two firms? Well, since patent rights don't seem to be involved, perhaps a whole array of old names will be back with us again for a while.

But if you ask us, the horseless buggy is not here to stay.

Religious Wars Rage Fierce

History shows that the fiercest, bloodiest wars are those between religions. That is why the deterioration of the rebellion in Lebanon into a Christian versus Moslem civil war is so alarming. Men never fight so savagely as when they kill in the name of religion.

Lebanon has prided itself on being a nation where Moslem and Christian and various obscure sects of the two could live happily together. In fact, a built-in balance of power was provided with the constitution calling for a Christian president, a Moslem permier, etc.

It had to be this way when one sect, for instance, abhors lettuce, radishes and the color blue, while a second holds that blue is the luckiest of colors. President Camille Chamoun, Christian and a friend of the West, has insisted on changing the consittution to allow himself to serve another six-year term. The opposition parties, egged on by agents of Egyptian President Nasser, have cried, "Dictatorship."

But Cnamoun says he had to stay on to keep the country from falling into the hand of Nasser's Arab nationalists, and eventually into the communist orbit.

Ham Pierces Iron Curtain

By Hal Boyle

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Iron Curtain seems more easily pierced by air than on the ground.

At least radio amateurs of the United States and the Soviet Union find it simpler to communicate with each other on a person-to-person level than do political leaders.

Ham radio station operators in the two countries strike up other wave friendships freely.

Perhaps a typical example of these new adventures in international understanding is the relationship between Frank Enge and Leo Shiskin.

Enge is supervisor of research and development for the American Machine Foundry Co. electronics laboratory here. Shiskin is an electrical engineer in Moscow.

Aug. 11, 1956, they first made contact via ham radio.

After that they quickly became pen pals. Leo asked Frank for copies of American radio journals, and sent him copies of Soviet radio journals—also some Russian classical phonograph records for Frank's wife.

Frank congratulated Leo on the Soviet scientific achievement when the first Sputnik went aloft, and Leo replied in kind when the United States sent up Explorer I.

That was the nearest the Russian ever came to a political remark, Enge said.

Leo Shiskin lost his Soviet radio amateur license "for infraction of the rules," but never explained the nature of the violation.

Leo wrote that he made about 1200 rubles a month—the ruble is officially pegged at 25 cents.

"He also said that he only had to pay 50 rubles a month rent," Enge recalled, "but he had to share a communal apartment with four other families. The apartment had only one bathroom, one kitchen and one telephone.

Frank wrote back that his own income was about $1,000 a month, that he had a five-room, two-bath apartment and owned two cars.

"This comparison may have made Leo unhappy, but so far he hasn't said so," remarked Enge smiling.

Enge estimated that perhaps 12,000 of some 160,000 American radio hams have made contact with Soviet amateurs.

"I think if the Russian people knew the American people, and we knew more about them, there would be no need for an Iron Curtain," Enge said.

In Memory of Herbert B. Swope

By George Sokolsky

The art of reporting has changed as governments have devised methods of depriving the public of the truth. What made Herbert Bayard Swope one of the two or three most competent reporters of all time was that he long recognized that really to know what is going on, a reporter must be inside the story.

In a word, while many of his contemporaries were standing outside a door, waiting for a great man to come to them to give them a statement, Swope, even as a young man, was dining with the aforesaid great man and was probably helping him to write the statement.

During the 40 years, boy and man, that I have known Swope, I have come to recognize why so many lesser and incompetent men envied him his combination of ability to get at the central facts, his vast knowledge of men and events, his enormous memory and his capacity to organize facts. To listen to Swope discourse on the difference between a reportorial account and an editorial account of a situation was a lesson in journalism which would help many of this younger generation to understand why, with superior communications, the news is not only belated but often an opinionated mishmash of a situation.

Herbert Bayard Swope possessed qualities of aristocratic bearing and noble living which are genetic not cultivated and which opened to him doors which were closed to others. His was the grand manner and the noble gesture and he was able to get a Wall Street story at the race track with greater ease than a financial writer could get it in the Stock Exchange.

Wherever he was, his head was high and nobody would call him one of the boys and that made a tremendous difference in his efforts to get a story because he was treated as a responsible man of understanding. Today, when the hand-out has become the fashion, it is not quite as exciting to do the kind of reporting that Herbert Swope did. The hand-out has become the curse of American journalism and it is undoubtedly the reason why the American people with a widespread press, radio and television news service are so poorly informed and have become subject to governmental propaganda which the old-time reporters such as Upton Sinclair, Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Ida Tarbell and Herbert Swope would have torn to shreds.

When Swope edited "The World" in New York, he produced what has come to be known in American journalistic history as the best "page opposite," meaning opposite the editorial page. He employed a galaxy of brilliant writers. This was still a period when the press accepted leadership in causes. The press still had a mission and a purpose.

It was unafraid. When a William Randolph Hearst or a Joseph Pulitzer went after a politician or a predatory businessman, the devil trembled in his boots. He knew that the newspapers would get him and the newspapers served the public interest.

But at that time newsprint was not expensive. There was no radio and television to take the cream off the advertising appropriations. Salaries were comparatively small and newspapermen regarded their work as a calling not a job. They worked around the clock with joy in their hearts because they were making a new world. It was a time of giants in this profession.

Herbert Bayard Swope never went to college, but his knowledge of literature and history was universal and his use of English as a tool was craftsmanlike. He came of a cultured family of distinguished Jews who had settled in St. Louis. His brother, Gerard, whom he adored, worked for General Electric and became its head. Gerard was an introvert; Herbert an extrovert. Between them was a tremendous affection and understanding.

The friendship between Herbert Bayard Swope and Bernard Baruch has often been misinterpreted as an employer-employee relationship. To the vulgar, everything is cast in the mold of a coin. These men had been close and intimate friends and to make a trio, the name of Winston Churchill might be added. It was a friendship based upon personal affection, like-mindedness and the give and take of great knowledge of affairs.

I had known Herbert Bayard Swope for perhaps 40 years, with more or less intimacy for a quarter of a century, and I mourn him with both affection and respect.

O'Neill-Bricker Team 'Breaking Up'

COLUMBUS (AP)—"The team of O'Neill and Bricker is breaking up," claims Stephen M. Young, Democratic nominee for U.S. senator.

He referred to his Nov. 4 election opponent, Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican incumbent, and GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill, also seeking reelection.

Young cited a full-page advertisement in a national magazine hailing the St. Lawrence Seaway as a business boon for Ohioans.

"I agree with those statements," said Young. "How about my old line Republican opponent who went in the opposite direction? He opposed the St. Lawrence Seaway."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JAY GOULD, one of the shrewdest and most ruthless stock manipulators Wall Street ever has known, was summoned one day by the rector of his church. "I've saved $30,000 in my lifetime," said the rector, "and I'd like you to tell me what stock I should buy with it." Gould made a suggestion, the rector acted on it—and six months later he was wiped out. "You gave me terrible advice," he told Gould, "and my whole $30,000 has gone down the drain." "I'll restore your faith," said the financier. "Here's a check for $40,000."

"I have one more confession to make," said the flabbergasted rector. "I'm afraid I passed on your market tip to several members of the congregation."

"Of course you did," said Gould cheerfully. "They're the ones I was after."

Bright Light and Cataracts

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

I don't suppose you ever thought about sunglasses as offering protection from development of cataracts. But it appears they might.

Cataracts, you see, can attack the eyes at any age. Some are even present at birth. Yet most do not begin developing until after the age of 50.

Now a cataract is an opacity of the lens of the eye or of the capsule enclosing the lens. All cataracts do not cause blindness. Some grow rapidly, some slowly. Some don't grow at all and others are absorbed and disappear.

Even when a cataract is a definite threat to sight, surgery can save the eye in many, many cases.

What causes cataracts? Well, next to old age, we believe heat is the most common cause. The lens contain 34.1 per cent protein, the highest of any body organ.

Heat coagulates protein causing it to become opaque. And opaque protein in the lens of the eye constitutes a cataract.

The Better Vision Institute points out that the change is similar to that produced in the white of an egg by the heat of cooking. I think that's an excellent explanation.

Doctors have found that cataracts develop early, rapidly and frequently in regions of intense light and heat.

Glassblowers, for example, have a high incidence of cataract. So do sheet - metal workers, stokers and others whose occupations expose them to bright light and intense heat.

I don't suppose too many of you fall into any of these classifications, but I'll bet many of you will spend some time on the beaches this summer, especially during a vacation.

And under prolonged exposure, the infra-red radiation that lurks in the light reflected from bright skies, beaches, water and even roads, is potentially harmful.

Anyone whose eyes are exposed to bright sunlight for long and frequent periods runs some risk that he will be predisposed to early cataract.

Now there probably will be some who will argue this point, but I believe that the mere fact that the possibility of harming the eyes exixts is enough to justify simple precautions such as wearing sunglasses.

Good sunglasses, of course, are best. The cheap variety do not properly screen out either the infra-red or the ultraviolet rays.

Question and Answer

A. C.: Does television produce eyestrain?

Answer: No, not unless it is watched for too long a period of time, or an uncorrected eye disorder exists.

State Department OKing Passports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is beginning to issue passports under last week's Supreme Court ruling that the travel documents can't be denied because of an applicant's beliefs.

The department granted the first one to Weldon Bruce Dayton, a physicist of Balcoa Island, Calif.

The department also notified attorneys for artist Rockwell Kent and Dr. Walter Briehl, a Los Angeles psychiatrist, that they will be issued passports too.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are getting tougher and nastier and in a way that shows disregard for what the world thinks. A few months ago they were breaking their backs to win a propaganda war.

By their recent actions they've handed the West made-in-Moscow propaganda for use against them. They're too smart not to know it.

This contempt for world opinion is the most startling aspect of the changes taking place in Soviet foreign policy.

They spent months trying to convince the world they wanted a summit talk and an end to nuclear testing. Then, deliberately, they all but blew up any chance for the talk or an agreement on testing. Their latest performance was Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, but again deliberately and savagely, they shocked the world by announcing the execution of Imre Nagy, the former Hungarian premier, and some of his aides.

This is the background of what's happened although no one yet has pretended to know all the answers why:

Last fall the Soviets made a smashing propaganda follow-up on their blazing Sputnik successes by proposing a summit talk to President Eisenhower. The Eisenhower administration was slow reacting and for a few months the Soviet Union had a clear edge.

Then the administration began answering and the proposals and counter-proposals became a tug-of-war too complicated for the average man around the world to follow. Because both sides began arguing details, neither made propaganda hay.

The Soviets said they wanted summit talks, willy-nilly. The United States said it wanted preparations for such talks. Last April Moscow agreed to the West's ambassadors should try to work out preparations for the summit meeting.

The two sides remained miles apart. Neither yielded any ground. But on June 11 Premier Khrushchev startled the world with a letter practically abandoning hope for a summit meeting. He blamed the West, of course. But Eisenhower was able to hit back: "The whole thing has been a great setback to my hopes."

In short, the Soviets put themselves, no matter what they claimed, in the position of being blamed for knocking a summit conference out the window.

At the same time the Soviets were working the other side of the street too, making more propaganda with their plea for a ban on nuclear testing. The West took the position that before a ban there must be a foolproof way of preventing cheating.

More argument. Finally, it was pretty well agreed the Soviet Union and the West would send scientists to Geneva to discuss ways of policing any nuclear test ban.

Will Horseless Buggies Stay?

Maybe there's no state with a law saying a motor car has to have a reverse gear, and maybe that's one reason the 1958 model of the 1901 Oldsmobile is off to a flying —well, a lurching start.

The maker, after all, is the Starts Manufacturing Company, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Must be something in a name. This tiller-steering job is priced at $895, and production is 50 cars a month.

Less than five miles away is this firm's one and only American competitor — since General Motors has shown no interest in tooling up its Oldsmobile division in 1901 style. This competitor, American Air Products Corporation, is building Oldsmobiles of the same vintage —appearance to sell at $1,200. Advertised as "The Car With the Backward Look," this model does 35 miles an hour and gets 65 miles to the gallon of gas. It's no secret the engine is an air-cooled affair of modern design cleverly mounted under the seat.

What if sealed-beam headlights have been fitted into the old-fashioned coal oil lamps—and electric starters are standard equipment? The two outfits in Florida cannot begin to handle all the orders they're getting, they insist. Perhaps they are cutting into sales of foreign cars.

How long will his market last for the two firms? Well, since patent rights don't seem to be involved, perhaps a whole array of old names will be back with us again for a while.

But if you ask us, the horseless buggy is not here to stay.

Religious Wars Rage Fierce

History shows that the fiercest, bloodiest wars are those between religions. That is why the deterioration of the rebellion in Lebanon into a Christian versus Moslem civil war is so alarming. Men never fight so savagely as when they kill in the name of religion.

Lebanon has prided itself on being a nation where Moslem and Christian and various obscure sects of the two could live happily together. In fact, a built-in balance of power was provided with the constitution calling for a Christian president, a Moslem permier, etc.

It had to be this way when one sect, for instance, abhors lettuce, radishes and the color blue, while a second holds that blue is the luckiest of colors. President Camille Chamoun, Christian and a friend of the West, has insisted on changing the consitution to allow himself to serve another six-year term. The opposition parties, egged on by agents of Egyptian President Nasser, have cried, "Dictatorship."

But Cnamoun says he had to stay on to keep the country from falling into the hand of Nasser's Arab nationalists, and eventually into the communist orbit.

Ham Pierces Iron Curtain

By Hal Boyle

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Iron Curtain seems more easily pierced by air than on the ground.

At least radio amateurs of the United States and the Soviet Union find it simpler to communicate with each other on a person-to-person level than do political leaders.

Ham radio station operators in the two countries strike up other wave friendships freely.

Perhaps a typical example of these new adventures in international understanding is the relationship between Frank Enge and Leo Shiskin.

Enge is supervisor of research and development for the American Machine Foundry Co. electronics laboratory here. Shiskin is an electrical engineer in Moscow.

Aug. 11, 1956, they first made contact via ham radio.

After that they quickly became pen pals. Leo asked Frank for copies of American radio journals, and sent him copies of Soviet radio journals—also some Russian classical phonograph records for Frank's wife.

Frank congratulated Leo on the Soviet scientific achievement when the first Sputnik went aloft, and Leo replied in kind when the United States sent up Explorer I.

That was the nearest the Russian ever came to a political remark, Enge said.

Leo Shiskin lost his Soviet radio amateur license "for infraction of the rules," but never explained the nature of the violation.

Leo wrote that he made about 1200 rubles a month—the ruble is officially pegged at 25 cents.

"He also said that he only had to pay 50 rubles a month rent," Enge recalled, "but he had to share a communal apartment with four other families. The apartment had only one bathroom, one kitchen and one telephone.

Frank wrote back that his own income was about $1,000 a month, that he had a five-room, two-bath apartment and owned two cars.

"This comparison may have made Leo unhappy, but so far he hasn't said so," remarked Enge smiling.

Enge estimated that perhaps 12,000 of some 160,000 American radio hams have made contact with Soviet amateurs.

"I think if the Russian people knew the American people, and we knew more about them, there would be no need for an Iron Curtain," Enge said.

In Memory of Herbert B. Swope

By George Sokolsky

The art of reporting has changed as governments have devised methods of depriving the public of the truth. What made Herbert Bayard Swope one of the two or three most competent reporters of all time was that he long recognized that really to know what is going on, a reporter must be inside the story.

In a word, while many of his contemporaries were standing outside a door, waiting for a great man to come to them to give them a statement, Swope, even as a young man, was dining with the aforesaid great man and was probably helping him to write the statement.

During the 40 years, boy and man, that I have known Swope, I have come to recognize why so many lesser and incompetent men envied him his combination of ability to get at the central facts, his vast knowledge of men and events, his enormous memory and his capacity to organize facts. To listen to Swope discourse on the difference between a reportorial account and an editorial account of a situation was a lesson in journalism which would help many of this younger generation to understand why, with superior communications, the news is not only belated but often an opinionated mishmash of a situation.

Herbert Bayard Swope possessed qualities of aristocratic bearing and noble living which are genetic not cultivated and which opened to him doors which were closed to others. His was the grand manner and the noble gesture and he was able to get a Wall Street story at the race track with greater ease than a financial writer could get it in the Stock Exchange.

Wherever he was, his head was high and nobody would call him one of the boys and that made a tremendous difference in his efforts to get a story because he was treated as a responsible man of understanding. Today, when the hand-out has become the fashion, it is not quite as exciting to do the kind of reporting that Herbert Swope did. The hand-out has become the curse of American journalism and it is undoubtedly the reason why the American people with a widespread press, radio and television news service are so poorly informed and have become subject to governmental propaganda which the old-time reporters such as Upton Sinclair, Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Ida Tarbell and Herbert Swope would have torn to shreds.

When Swope edited "The World" in New York, he produced what has come to be known in American journalistic history as the best "page opposite," meaning opposite the editorial page. He employed a galaxy of brilliant writers. This was still a period when the press accepted leadership in causes. The press still had a mission and a purpose.

It was unafraid. When a William Randolph Hearst or a Joseph Pulitzer went after a politician or a predatory businessman, the devil trembled in his boots. He knew that the newspapers would get him and the newspapers served the public interest.

But at that time newsprint was not expensive. There was no radio and television to take the cream off the advertising appropriations. Salaries were comparatively small and newspapermen regarded their work as a calling not a job. They worked around the clock with joy in their hearts because they were making a new world. It was a time of giants in this profession.

Herbert Bayard Swope never went to college, but his knowledge of literature and history was universal and his use of English as a tool was craftsmanlike. He came of a cultured family of distinguished Jews who had settled in St. Louis. His brother, Gerard, whom he adored, worked for General Electric and became its head. Gerard was an introvert; Herbert an extrovert. Between them was a tremendous affection and understanding.

The friendship between Herbert Bayard Swope and Bernard Baruch has often been misinterpreted as an employer-employee relationship. To the vulgar, everything is cast in the mold of a coin. These men had been close and intimate friends and to make a trio, the name of Winston Churchill might be added. It was a friendship based upon personal affection, like-mindedness and the give and take of great knowledge of affairs.

I had known Herbert Bayard Swope for perhaps 40 years, with more or less intimacy for a quarter of a century, and I mourn him with both affection and respect.

O'Neill-Bricker Team 'Breaking Up'

COLUMBUS (AP)—"The team of O'Neill and Bricker is breaking up," claims Stephen M. Young, Democratic nominee for U.S. senator.

He referred to his Nov. 4 election opponent, Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican incumbent, and GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill, also seeking reelection.

Young cited a full-page advertisement in a national magazine hailing the St. Lawrence Seaway as a business boon for Ohioans.

"I agree with those statements," said Young. "How about my old line Republican opponent who went in the opposite direction? He opposed the St. Lawrence Seaway."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JAY GOULD, one of the shrewdest and most ruthless stock manipulators Wall Street ever has known, was summoned one day by the rector of his church. "I've saved $30,000 in my lifetime," said the rector, "and I'd like you to tell me what stock I should buy with it." Gould made a suggestion, the rector acted on it—and six months later he was wiped out. "You gave me terrible advice," he told Gould, "and my whole $30,000 has gone down the drain." "I'll restore your faith," said the financier. "Here's a check for $40,000."

"I have one more confession to make," said the flabbergasted rector. "I'm afraid I passed on your market tip to several members of the congregation."

"Of course you did," said Gould cheerfully. "They're the ones I was after."

Bright Light and Cataracts

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

I don't suppose you ever thought about sunglasses as offering protection from development of cataracts. But it appears they might.

Cataracts, you see, can attack the eyes at any age. Some are even present at birth. Yet most do not begin developing until after the age of 50.

Now a cataract is an opacity of the lens of the eye or of the capsule enclosing the lens. All cataracts do not cause blindness. Some grow rapidly, some slowly. Some don't grow at all and others are absorbed and disappear.

Even when a cataract is a definite threat to sight, surgery can save the eye in many, many cases.

What causes cataracts? Well, next to old age, we believe heat is the most common cause. The lens contain 34.1 per cent protein, the highest of any body organ.

Heat coagulates protein causing it to become opaque. And opaque protein in the lens of the eye constitutes a cataract.

The Better Vision Institute points out that the change is similar to that produced in the white of an egg by the heat of cooking. I think that's an excellent explanation.

Doctors have found that cataracts develop early, rapidly and frequently in regions of intense light and heat.

Glassblowers, for example, have a high incidence of cataract. So do sheet - metal workers, stokers and others whose occupations expose them to bright light and intense heat.

I don't suppose too many of you fall into any of these classifications, but I'll bet many of you will spend some time on the beaches this summer, especially during a vacation.

And under prolonged exposure, the infra-red radiation that lurks in the light reflected from bright skies, beaches, water and even roads, is potentially harmful.

Anyone whose eyes are exposed to bright sunlight for long and frequent periods runs some risk that he will be predisposed to early cataract.

Now there probably will be some who will argue this point, but I believe that the mere fact that the possibility of harming the eyes exixts is enough to justify simple precautions such as wearing sunglasses.

Good sunglasses, of course, are best. The cheap variety do not properly screen out either the infra-red or the ultraviolet rays.

Question and Answer

A. C.: Does television produce eyestrain?

Answer: No, not unless it is watched for too long a period of time, or an uncorrected eye disorder exists.

State Department OKing Passports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is beginning to issue passports under last week's Supreme Court ruling that the travel documents can't be denied because of an applicant's beliefs.

The department granted the first one to Weldon Bruce Dayton, a physicist of Balcoa Island, Calif.

The department also notified attorneys for artist Rockwell Kent and Dr. Walter Briehl, a Los Angeles psychiatrist, that they will be issued passports too.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are getting tougher and nastier and in a way that shows disregard for what the world thinks. A few months ago they were breaking their backs to win a propaganda war.

By their recent actions they've handed the West made-in-Moscow propaganda for use against them. They're too smart not to know it.

This contempt for world opinion is the most startling aspect of the changes taking place in Soviet foreign policy.

They spent months trying to convince the world they wanted a summit talk and an end to nuclear testing. Then, deliberately, they all but blew up any chance for the talk or an agreement on testing. Their latest performance was Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, but again deliberately and savagely, they shocked the world by announcing the execution of Imre Nagy, the former Hungarian premier, and some of his aides.

This is the background of what's happened although no one yet has pretended to know all the answers why:

Last fall the Soviets made a smashing propaganda follow-up on their blazing Sputnik successes by proposing a summit talk to President Eisenhower. The Eisenhower administration was slow reacting and for a few months the Soviet Union had a clear edge.

Then the administration began answering and the proposals and counter-proposals became a tug-of-war too complicated for the average man around the world to follow. Because both sides began arguing details, neither made propaganda hay.

The Soviets said they wanted summit talks, willy-nilly. The United States said it wanted preparations for such talks. Last April Moscow agreed to the West's ambassadors should try to work out preparations for the summit meeting.

The two sides remained miles apart. Neither yielded any ground. But on June 11 Premier Khrushchev startled the world with a letter practically abandoning hope for a summit meeting. He blamed the West, of course. But Eisenhower was able to hit back: "The whole thing has been a great setback to my hopes."

In short, the Soviets put themselves, no matter what they claimed, in the position of being blamed for knocking a summit conference out the window.

At the same time the Soviets were working the other side of the street too, making more propaganda with their plea for a ban on nuclear testing. The West took the position that before a ban there must be a foolproof way of preventing cheating.

More argument. Finally, it was pretty well agreed the Soviet Union and the West would send scientists to Geneva to discuss ways of policing any nuclear test ban.

At Midyear, U.S. Business Feels Better

First 6 Months of '58 Rather Rough, but Things Look Up Now

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business at midyear feels better than it did New Year's Day—if only because the economy at the moment has stopped hammering its own thumb.

For many it's been a rough six months. The year started with industry on the skids. Many were losing their jobs as sales and then production slumped, largely in the durable goods industries.

But hopes for a turn at midyear held high until March when the recession, developing faster and going deeper than expected, looked its worst. The hoped - for date was postponed to the last months of this year.

Despite a mild upturn in some lines in April, May and the first half of June few indeed expect a new boom to start in July. But many think the worst is over now.

The first half of the year is coming to an end with 5½ million persons looking for work. Industrial production is around 14 per cent lower than a year ago, and the total dollar value of the nation's output of goods and services is off 4 per cent from its peak. The cost of living after months of steady climbing is 3.3 per cent above a year ago.

But midyear also finds most of the farm belt feeling fine as the result of higher prices and good crop weather. And stock market prices are around their highs for the year.

Consumer spending is holding up pretty well in face of the drop in incomes for many persons and the tendency of others to save more than usual.

Borrowing is easier now that the Federal Reserve Board has made money plentiful and interest rates lower.

Yet neither business nor consumers are borrowing as much as formerly. Consumers are paying up old debts and going slower on taking on new ones, especially for new cars.

Home building is perking up a little. And highway construction is on the upgrade.

The first half of the year has seen hopes of tax cuts wax and then wane as the federal deficit and debt start to soar.

Wage-price turmoil centers on the contractless auto workers and the debate over whether to raise steel prices and how much. Steel is enjoying an upturn in demand, if temporary. But copper, lead and zinc so far look only to possible relief from buying for the U.S. stockpile.

Inventory cutting has featured the first six months — one of the reasons the dip was so sharp — but some now profess to see the end in sight.

Ruling Is Upheld By Judge Ammer

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer Monday upheld the ruling of the Ohio Board of Review, Division of Unemployment Compensation, in the case of Mrs. Viola Spangler, Route 1, Amanda.

Mrs. Spangler had appealed to the Court for an opinion on her unemployment benefits. The Board of Review ruled that 'the claimant quit work without just cause.

In her petition, Mrs. Spangler maintained the Board's ruling was unreasonable, unlawful and against the manifest weight of the evidence.

Judge Ammer's opinion stated that testimony indicated differences of opinion on mony occasions and not just on the day of her quitting work.

Ike Signs Boost In U. S. Pensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 232,000 retired federal workers will start getting bigger pension checks in September.

President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill providing pension increases of about 10 per cent for persons who started drawing benefits before Oct. 1, 1956. The bill sets a top limit of $504 a year on individual boosts.

Also benefiting from the bill are about 12,000 widows who were ruled ineligible under previous law.

Employes who retired after Oct. 1, 1956, draw their benefits under a different schedule.

Sixth Fleet Keeps on Move With Wary Eyes on Lebanon

By ALLAN JACKS

Aboard the USS Des Moines (AP) — This powerful cruiser, flagship of America's Mediterranean watchdog fleet, steamed abreast the heavily laden tanker only 100 feet away. Both continued their 12-knot pace, rolling slightly in the gentle swell off Crete.

The Des Moines filled its huge fuel tanks, let go the pipes which connected it with the tanker and drew ahead. Then the 60,000-ton aircraft carrier Saratoga moved up and took on fuel for its own voracious engines and its 100 jet planes.

Nearby other aircraft carriers, destroyers, troop carriers and submarines took aboard from supply ships the things needed by the fleet's community of 35,000 sailors and marines.

Between dawn and noon the fleet had completely restocked. They didn't stop or change course. They plowed steadily ahead through the eastern Mediterranean with a wary eye on troubled little Lebanon.

Through this well-practiced seamanship, repeated almost weekly in heavy seas or smooth, the 6th Fleet can keep its eyes — and its guns and planes — trained indefinitely on Lebanon or any other Mediterranean hot spot.

The fleet, 68 ships including the supply vessels, is completely mobile and self-sustaining. It needs no shore bases.

Twelve of its vessels — tankers and refrigerator, ammunition, repair and supply ships — comprise its "floating base." They come and go to restock themselves, usually to the United States except for oil.

But the fleet's fighting ships, its 200 to 300 aircraft, its 2,000 to 4,000 Marines, its landing craft, tanks, missiles and artillery, are kept constantly free of shore ties, shore politics, shore commitments, putting in port only briefly for recreation.

Aerial Collision Narrowly Missed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An American Airlines plane with 44 persons aboard and a Navy plane narrowly missed a collision 500 feet above Municipal Airport Wednesday.

The airliner had just taken off for Dallas when the Navy AD6 swooped out of the 1,000-foot ceiling. The Navy plane passed above the DC7.

The pilot of the Navy plane said he turned away quickly when he saw the DC7. He said he had been unable to contact the control tower by radio because of bad weather.

8 Atom Workers Hit by Radiation

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) —Eight atomic plant workers, exposed accidentally last week to an overdose of deadly radiation, show no outward ill effects.

Miss Jackson Is Honored At Shower

The gifts were placed on a table underneath a decorated umbrella.

The hostesses served refreshments to the honored guest and Mrs. Richard Flagley, Lancaster, Mrs. Pontious, Amanda, Mrs. Myrtle Routt, Mrs. Charles Jennings, Chillicothe, Mrs. Glenn Hartsough, Circleville, Mrs. Richard Routt and Diana, Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mrs. Fouch and Mrs. W. LATHER UP for clear skin. A new brush has nylon bristles that are not stiff, not too soft, but just right!

Begin and End The Day By Washing Your Face

If you want to keep your complexion pretty, then begin and end the day with a face washing. Not a slapdash one, but a thorough going-over that will leave your face c-l-e-a-n!

All you need in the way of supplies are soap, warm water and a good complexion brush. To be effective, the latter should have bristles stiff enough to stimulate circulation, yet not so stiff that they irritate tender skin.

A new brush with nylon bristles seems to fit the "just right" category. Its bristles are stiff, but not too stiff. Hundreds of them are threaded through a wire loop in such a way that two sets of bristles are working on your complexion when you scrub-a-dub-dub.

Load the brush with warm soapsuds and begin a rotary action at the forehead hairline, working down each side of the face to the throat. Pay special attention to skin at each side of your nose and to your chin—blackheads often lodge in these places. Don't forget the back of your neck, where hair oils concentrate.

Remove soapy lather with clear warm water, scooped into your hands, splashed over your face. Go over your face once again lightly with soap and follow with several rinses—the last one icy cold.

Blot away moisture with a spotless clean towel.

Thorough face-washing's important at every age, but it's a vital necessity for adolescents. The teen years often bring complexion problems. Cleanliness is one good way to ease them.

Household Hints

Chives, grown in a pot on a window sill, are good used a number of ways. Add them to scrambled eggs, garnish marinated tomatoes and cucumbers with them, sprinkle them over tomato soup (hot or cold).

Horseradish is a favorite accompaniment, in England, to roast beef. Try it with cold roast beef sandwiches this summer.

When American recipes use the French word "saute" they usually mean to cook a food fairly quickly in a small amount of fat.

LATHER UP for clear skin. A new brush has nylon bristles that are not stiff, not too soft, but just right!

Begin and End The Day By Washing Your Face

If you want to keep your complexion pretty, then begin and end the day with a face washing. Not a slapdash one, but a thorough going-over that will leave your face c-l-e-a-n!

All you need in the way of supplies are soap, warm water and a good complexion brush. To be effective, the latter should have bristles stiff enough to stimulate circulation, yet not so stiff that they irritate tender skin.

A new brush with nylon bristles seems to fit the "just right" category. Its bristles are stiff, but not too stiff. Hundreds of them are threaded through a wire loop in such a way that two sets of bristles are working on your complexion when you scrub-a-dub-dub.

Load the brush with warm soapsuds and begin a rotary action at the forehead hairline, working down each side of the face to the throat. Pay special attention to skin at each side of your nose and to your chin—blackheads often lodge in these places. Don't forget the back of your neck, where hair oils concentrate.

Remove soapy lather with clear warm water, scooped into your hands, splashed over your face. Go over your face once again lightly with soap and follow with several rinses—the last one icy cold.

Blot away moisture with a spotless clean towel.

Thorough face-washing's important at every age, but it's a vital necessity for adolescents. The teen years often bring complexion problems. Cleanliness is one good way to ease them.

Chives, grown in a pot on a window sill, are good used a number of ways. Add them to scrambled eggs, garnish marinated tomatoes and cucumbers with them, sprinkle them over tomato soup (hot or cold).

Horseradish is a favorite accompaniment, in England, to roast beef. Try it with cold roast beef sandwiches this summer.

When American recipes use the French word "saute" they usually mean to cook a food fairly quickly in a small amount of fat.

Expecting a Baby?

You've a got a secret? For the first few months, yes! After that, the heir's apparent and everyone knows you're having a baby!

Is it your first? Look forward to a wonderful experience. Oh, there'll be days when you'll yearn to be back in shape again, but they'll pass.

Mainly, you'll feel happy and important! And why not? You are doing the most creative job in the world!

By the fourth or fifth month, beauty becomes a problem. A new You is evident, bigger and bulgier!

TREAT YOURSELF to something giddy, like a hair ornament. It will raise morale!

How can you look your best? Peg Bracken and Helen Berry Moore have some good suggestions in their informative, amusing and thoroughly charming guidebook for firsttime mothers, "The 9-Months' Wonder."

Don't urge the authors, try to squeeze into old clothes. They'll be sausage-tight and, by the time you get your own shape back, they'll have lost theirs.

Do organize a wardrobe of pretty frocks. You'll need a number to avoid the deadly dullness of wearing the same thing day after day.

See what you can borrow before you buy. Swapping maternity clothes is an economical custom.

Save money by learning how to sew. Maternity toppers are easy to make because fit is a minor matter.

Look mad and gay with zany accessories — a striking hat, a vivid bag, a bold stole, an eye-catching hair ornament.

Or look sweet and feminine in pretty pastels. Wear flowers, fresh or atrificial, to perk up your hairdo.

Avoid the limp look at all cost.

YOUR HEAD won't change size, so splurge on a few new hats to keep step with style.

Pass up clinging fabrics. Choose those that stay crisp and pretty.

Dodge the down look. Hair that's lank and long isn't pretty when you're pregnant! Up lines in coiffure and posture — are for you, you'$

Above all, the mother-book authors warn, watch your diet! Food needs won't increase — your appetite will. If you literally eat enough for two, you'll soon be in trouble!

Follow the doctor's advice for a well-balanced diet—it's important for the baby. Keep count of calories and don't exceed the total allowed.

If willpower's weak, paste the prettiest mother-baby picture you can find on the inside of the refrigerator door. When you feel like sneaking a snack, it'll be a remainder of what you want to look like after Baby arrives.

"The 9-Months' Wonder" isn't just a book about beauty.

It tells an expectant mother everything she should know about her interesting condition — and does so in a chatty way. There's even a chapter on what to buy for Baby.

Amusing sketches, several of which are reproduced here, illustrate the book, which you can order through your local shop.

NO NEED to look plain. Let vivid accessories add flair to your maternity wardrobe.

Buskins Real New In Sandels

By BARBARA

For those who like barefoot sandals, something new is being shown in one of the local stores in this line. They are buskins.

The sandals come in flat or the new French heel.

They can be worn for almost every occasion on summer days or evenings.

You have a choice of a variety of colors or in white.

Desserts seem to be a problem on these warm days. A nice easy one which is colorful and one you'd be proud to serve to your guests is made of Angel food cake.

The ingredients you will need are ½ pint of whipping cream and a package of jello plus your cake. We like to use cherry or raspberry jello but it would be up to your own taste.

You can use a bakery cake. In the center, place a glass so your cake will hold its shape. Fold wax paper three times so it is the height of the cake and will fit around it. Tie the paper with string around the cake.

Scoop the center of the cake a inch from the bottom and sides. Save the crumbs for later use.

Have your jello firmly set ready to use. Whip the cream.

Stir into the cream the jello cut in pieces and the crumbs. Fill the scooped out section of the cake and place in the refrigerater to chill for about an hour.

The cake will serve eight.

Desserts You'll Enjoy On Warm Summer Days

Desserts are always in season. But during the summer, the demand is, of course, for something light and refreshing.

So here are three recipes for the warm days ahead.

To prepare 1 qt. of an ice cream dessert that will vanish like snow in the sun, crush one junket (rennet) tablet and dissolve in tbsp. cold water.

Combine 2 c. light cream, ½ c. sugar, 1-16 tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. light corn syrup and 1½ tsp. pure vanilla extract.

Heat to lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of the wrist, frequently. When comfortbaly warm (110 degrees), remove at once from heat.

Add dissolved junket tablet. Stir a few seconds only.

Pour immediately into ice cube tray and do not disturb for 10 min. while mixture sets. Freeze until almost firm.

Remove from tray into a bowl and break up with a fork. Beat with a rotary beater or electric beater until fluffy and smooth but still thick.

Fold in 1½ c. crushed fresh strawberries.

Return to freezing trays and freeze until firm.

Baked Nutmeg "Trifle" is a grand choice for a party dessert.

For 8 to 10 servings, combine 1-3 c. sugar, tbsp. cornstarch and ¼ tsp. salt in a saucepan. Add 3 egg yolks mixed with 2 tbsp. milk. Mix well.

Heat 3 c. less 2 tbsp. milk and gradually add to the yolk the mixture. Mix well.

Cook over hot water or direct low heat until mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly.

Add ½ tsp. ground nutmeg. Cool.

Cut each of 2 (8-in.) spongecake layers into 2 crosswise slices. Place 1 slice at bottom of a (2-qt.) casserole. Cover with custard. Repeat this process, using the remaining spongecake and custard, having custard as the final top layer.

Top with meringue and bake at 325 degrees, 30 min. or until meringue is browned. Garnish with ground nutmeg.

To make the meringue, add ½ tsp. pure vanilla extract and ⅛ tsp. salt to 3 eggs whites and beat until they form soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1-3 c. sugar and continue beating until stiff.

Hold the following recipe in the file until fresh blueberries are in season, which should be fairly soon now.

Combine 3 c. dry cereal flakes with ½ c. sugar, ½ tsp. ground cinnamon and 4½ tbsp. melted butter.

Mix 3 c. fresh blueberries with 3 tbsp. fresh lemon juice and ½ c. sugar.

In a 1-qt. casserole, arrange alternate layers of blueberries and dry cereal flakes, with the cereal as the top layer.

Bake at 350 degrees. 25 min. or until blueberries are soft.

Serve plain, with whipped cream or hard sauce or with ice cream as a special supper dessert.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Your recent exchange with the 14-year-old boy, discussing teen-age necking, etc., was marvellous; and I can't resist writing you to say "Bravo!"

My 13-year-old son reads the paper avidly—including, of course, all the lurid details of crimes committed here and there. So when I told him that I had something good in the paper for him he grabbed it eagerly, and was halfway through before he realized that I had trapped him!

I don't know what his reaction was. Naturally he wouldn't let his mother know that he agreed with you! But I wish ferventy that there was more of your advice lying around for the kids to read. It make much more impression on them than any of Mom's "preachments"—and it is exactly what I have been trying to tell them for ages in my own words.

Please keep up the good work, with an occasional letter from your teen-age audience. I loved that sentence: "It amounts to hitching you wagon to a glowworm rather than to a star—" in speaking of teenage worship of rock-and-roll singers. Ridicule seems more effective with kids than pious sermons.

I have six children, ranging in ages from 13 years to three; and putting ideas across to small fry seems to be my biggest assignment these days. Thanks again for your help.

C.F.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Having read the letter from the 14-year-old defender of teen-age necking, I would like to file my own view. I am a girl 17; and thanks to guidance from my teachers and wonderful parents, my 17 years have been happy and sheltered.

I look back with pleasure on my childhood and its gradual transition towards grown-up experience. Strange as it may sound from a so-called "modern" teen-ager, I never have let a boy kiss me. Not that I am prudish, but because I am content to wait until the kiss means something.

It seems to me that every time a girl permits just any attentive member of the opposite sex to kiss (or neck) she is giving part of herself away; and in that sense she can give herself threadbare.

Many teen-agers think of youth in terms of sex adventure. But many others, like me, are trying to prepare for life as a whole, including love, marriage and parenthood. And it is discouraging to some of us, at least, to read blaze sentiments such as G.R.'s — who writes like a 14-year-old roue.

K.B.

DEAR LADIES: Thanks for your contributions. You voice the feminine view of life (as matron and school girl) that men most approve, when the cards are down—no matter what they may argue to the contrary, in expedient defense of their sometimes undisciplined pleasure drives.

As for G.R., the 14-year-old boy who stuck his neck out, to ventilate his ideas before a court of public opinion, I expect that he is thinking somewhat differently now than he did before.

Some of the things that other teen-agers have said to him — for example, that getting away from the crowd to neck IS making a spectacle of oneself — must have hit him between the eyes, shaking his smugness, toning him down.

Expecting a Baby?

You've a got a secret? For the first few months, yes! After that, the heir's apparent and everyone knows you're having a baby!

Is it your first? Look forward to a wonderful experience. Oh, there'll be days when you'll yearn to be back in shape again, but they'll pass.

Mainly, you'll feel happy and important! And why not? You are doing the most creative job in the world!

By the fourth or fifth month, beauty becomes a problem. A new You is evident, bigger and bulgier!

TREAT YOURSELF to something giddy, like a hair ornament. It will raise morale!

How can you look your best? Peg Bracken and Helen Berry Moore have some good suggestions in their informative, amusing and thoroughly charming guidebook for firsttime mothers, "The 9-Months' Wonder."

Don't urge the authors, try to squeeze into old clothes. They'll be sausage-tight and, by the time you get your own shape back, they'll have lost theirs.

Do organize a wardrobe of pretty frocks. You'll need a number to avoid the deadly dullness of wearing the same thing day after day.

See what you can borrow before you buy. Swapping maternity clothes is an economical custom.

Save money by learning how to sew. Maternity toppers are easy to make because fit is a minor matter.

Look mad and gay with zany accessories — a striking hat, a vivid bag, a bold stole, an eye-catching hair ornament.

Or look sweet and feminine in pretty pastels. Wear flowers, fresh or atrificial, to perk up your hairdo.

Avoid the limp look at all cost.

YOUR HEAD won't change size, so splurge on a few new hats to keep step with style.

Pass up clinging fabrics. Choose those that stay crisp and pretty.

Dodge the down look. Hair that's lank and long isn't pretty when you're pregnant! Up lines in coiffure and posture — are for you, you'$

Above all, the mother-book authors warn, watch your diet! Food needs won't increase — your appetite will. If you literally eat enough for two, you'll soon be in trouble!

Follow the doctor's advice for a well-balanced diet—it's important for the baby. Keep count of calories and don't exceed the total allowed.

If willpower's weak, paste the prettiest mother-baby picture you can find on the inside of the refrigerator door. When you feel like sneaking a snack, it'll be a remainder of what you want to look like after Baby arrives.

"The 9-Months' Wonder" isn't just a book about beauty.

It tells an expectant mother everything she should know about her interesting condition — and does so in a chatty way. There's even a chapter on what to buy for Baby.

Amusing sketches, several of which are reproduced here, illustrate the book, which you can order through your local shop.

NO NEED to look plain. Let vivid accessories add flair to your maternity wardrobe.

Buskins Real New In Sandels

By BARBARA

For those who like barefoot sandals, something new is being shown in one of the local stores in this line. They are buskins.

The sandals come in flat or the new French heel.

They can be worn for almost every occasion on summer days or evenings.

You have a choice of a variety of colors or in white.

Desserts seem to be a problem on these warm days. A nice easy one which is colorful and one you'd be proud to serve to your guests is made of Angel food cake.

The ingredients you will need are ½ pint of whipping cream and a package of jello plus your cake. We like to use cherry or raspberry jello but it would be up to your own taste.

You can use a bakery cake. In the center, place a glass so your cake will hold its shape. Fold wax paper three times so it is the height of the cake and will fit around it. Tie the paper with string around the cake.

Scoop the center of the cake a inch from the bottom and sides. Save the crumbs for later use.

Have your jello firmly set ready to use. Whip the cream.

Stir into the cream the jello cut in pieces and the crumbs. Fill the scooped out section of the cake and place in the refrigerater to chill for about an hour.

The cake will serve eight.

Desserts You'll Enjoy On Warm Summer Days

Desserts are always in season. But during the summer, the demand is, of course, for something light and refreshing.

So here are three recipes for the warm days ahead.

To prepare 1 qt. of an ice cream dessert that will vanish like snow in the sun, crush one junket (rennet) tablet and dissolve in tbsp. cold water.

Combine 2 c. light cream, ½ c. sugar, 1-16 tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. light corn syrup and 1½ tsp. pure vanilla extract.

Heat to lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of the wrist, frequently. When comfortbaly warm (110 degrees), remove at once from heat.

Add dissolved junket tablet. Stir a few seconds only.

Pour immediately into ice cube tray and do not disturb for 10 min. while mixture sets. Freeze until almost firm.

Remove from tray into a bowl and break up with a fork. Beat with a rotary beater or electric beater until fluffy and smooth but still thick.

Fold in 1½ c. crushed fresh strawberries.

Return to freezing trays and freeze until firm.

Baked Nutmeg "Trifle" is a grand choice for a party dessert.

For 8 to 10 servings, combine 1-3 c. sugar, tbsp. cornstarch and ¼ tsp. salt in a saucepan. Add 3 egg yolks mixed with 2 tbsp. milk. Mix well.

Heat 3 c. less 2 tbsp. milk and gradually add to the yolk the mixture. Mix well.

Cook over hot water or direct low heat until mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly.

Add ½ tsp. ground nutmeg. Cool.

Cut each of 2 (8-in.) spongecake layers into 2 crosswise slices. Place 1 slice at bottom of a (2-qt.) casserole. Cover with custard. Repeat this process, using the remaining spongecake and custard, having custard as the final top layer.

Top with meringue and bake at 325 degrees, 30 min. or until meringue is browned. Garnish with ground nutmeg.

To make the meringue, add ½ tsp. pure vanilla extract and ⅛ tsp. salt to 3 eggs whites and beat until they form soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1-3 c. sugar and continue beating until stiff.

Hold the following recipe in the file until fresh blueberries are in season, which should be fairly soon now.

Combine 3 c. dry cereal flakes with ½ c. sugar, ½ tsp. ground cinnamon and 4½ tbsp. melted butter.

Mix 3 c. fresh blueberries with 3 tbsp. fresh lemon juice and ½ c. sugar.

In a 1-qt. casserole, arrange alternate layers of blueberries and dry cereal flakes, with the cereal as the top layer.

Bake at 350 degrees. 25 min. or until blueberries are soft.

Serve plain, with whipped cream or hard sauce or with ice cream as a special supper dessert.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Your recent exchange with the 14-year-old boy, discussing teen-age necking, etc., was marvellous; and I can't resist writing you to say "Bravo!"

My 13-year-old son reads the paper avidly—including, of course, all the lurid details of crimes committed here and there. So when I told him that I had something good in the paper for him he grabbed it eagerly, and was halfway through before he realized that I had trapped him!

I don't know what his reaction was. Naturally he wouldn't let his mother know that he agreed with you! But I wish ferventy that there was more of your advice lying around for the kids to read. It make. much more impression on them than any of Mom's "preachments"—and it is exactly what I have been trying to tell them for ages in my own words.

Please keep up the good work, with an occasional letter from your teen-age audience. I loved that sentence: "It amounts to hitching you wagon to a glowworm rather than to a star—" in speaking of teenage worship of rock-and-roll singers. Ridicule seems more effective with kids than pious sermons.

I have six children, ranging in ages from 13 years to three; and putting ideas across to small fry seems to be my biggest assignment these days. Thanks again for your help.

C.F.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Having read the letter from the 14-year-old defender of teen-age necking, I would like to file my own view. I am a girl 17; and thanks to guidance from my teachers and wonderful parents, my 17 years have been happy and sheltered.

I look back with pleasure on my childhood and its gradual transition towards grown-up experience. Strange as it may sound from a so-called "modern" teen-ager, I never have let a boy kiss me. Not that I am prudish, but because I am content to wait until the kiss means something.

It seems to me that every time a girl permits just any attentive member of the opposite sex to kiss (or neck) she is giving part of herself away; and in that sense she can give herself threadbare.

Many teen-agers think of youth in terms of sex adventure. But many others, like me, are trying to prepare for life as a whole, including love, marriage and parenthood. And it is discouraging to some of us, at least, to read blaze sentiments such as G.R.'s — who writes like a 14-year-old roue.

K.B.

DEAR LADIES: Thanks for your contributions. You voice the feminine view of life (as matron and school girl) that men most approve, when the cards are down—no matter what they may argue to the contrary, in expedient defense of their sometimes undisciplined pleasure drives.

As for G.R., the 14-year-old boy who stuck his neck out, to ventilate his ideas before a court of public opinion, I expect that he is thinking somewhat differently now than he did before.

Some of the things that other teen-agers have said to him — for example, that getting away from the crowd to neck IS making a spectacle of oneself — must have hit him between the eyes, shaking his smugness, toning him down.

M.H.

A pair of 'Ice Worms' build their snow hut in Alaska.

USAF Builds Durable Snowman

By TOM McCLARY
Central Press Association
Correspondent

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Using volunteer GIs, the Air Force Arctic Aero Medical Laboratory is seeking ways and means to create a super polar man scientifically who may turn out to be more resistant to cold than even the Himalayan Abdominable Snowman.

Taking the volunteers from the Ladd and Eielson Bases, the Arctic Lab had pretty good material to start with. Both bases have winter spells of 50 below zero. However, the volunteers were purposely screened to find those least resistant to cold, and furthermore, in relatively poor physical condition.

The project officer, Lt. Earl J. Heberling, explained that the less resistant volunteers — currently called Ice Worms by their buddies —offered better comparative studies in building men up to full resistance.

That, in terms of a massive polar war, might mean the saving of thousands of lives from cold alone, for extreme cold can be as ruthlessly annihilating as the biggest H-bomb, and over a far greater area.

As example, in their winter war with the Russians, the Finns made no special point of killing an enemy soldier. Their objective was only to slash his clothes or wound him, and leave the cold do the rest.

The Arctic Lab's volunteers took three weeks of preliminary exercises and exposure to the cold room during tests. The test showed that exposure to plus 50 degrees in nothing but shorts was the equivalent to facing zero in proper clothing. Other tests included studies of the heart, respiratory, blood flow, metabolic rate, shivering measurement and studies of precisely what causes shivering and what it accomplishes.

Twenty-two electric thermocouples were attached to the Ice Worms during their cold room shivers to measure the exact temperatures of various areas and glands of the body. One result indicates that the body is not equally resistant nor susceptible to cold throughout. Two adjoining glands may react entirely differently at varying temperatures.

After the indoor buildup, which brought all of the volunteers to about the same level of resistance, they were taken outdoors to live for a month in the cold.

Food was adequate, but they were allowed only one-half hour per day in a heated room, during the period of their one prepared warm meal. Rigid dietary records were kept for one of the aims of the project is the development of foods which impart more, and more lasting, heat to the body.

Tests at this point indicate that resistance to cold is not a thing that can be built up within the blood. At most, the body is only capable of five per cent adjustment. After that, the body is either suffering and deteriorating, or it must be protected by layers of fat, clothing, heat or shelter.

An interesting development of the tests when moved to Cleary summit was that if a pile of snow was packed and then hollowed out for a snow house, the "hole" grew so warm from human heat that it became uncomfortable. In lieu of food and shelter, the men turned into demons of energetic work. Exercise was the only way to stay warm.

Study Shows Fastest Way To Cool Coffee

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—What's the fastest way to cool your coffee, assuming you use milk or cream?

Do you put the cream in right away, or hold off a bit?

Is this academic? It was to start with. But not now.

At Cornell University, in New York State, two coffee-keen professors fell to arguing these points. Their talk was so intriguing that two seniors resolved to get at the scientific truth about it.

For their entire senior year, these two grappled with the poser. They came up with a 78-page paper, complete with formulae, graphs and abstract mathematics.

A brief of their findings tells you that coffee cools faster if the drinker waits a little while to pour in the milk or cream.

Today, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, holding its golden jubilee convention here, gave the bulky paper first prize in its international competition for student papers.

Gun Shot Fatal To Akron Man

AKRON (AP)—An Akron man has died as the result of a double-shooting in which his wife was critically injured.

Police are not certain whether Tyree Hayes, 44, shot himself or was shot by his wife. Hayes had told police his wife, Eula, 32, shot him in the head and then used the gun on herself.

Mrs. Hayes was reported n critical condition with three bullet wounds in her head. She contradicted her husband's story. She said he shot her.

Slender trees rise from ground once bared by shell explosions between Suwon and Osan, south of Seoul. This is one of the areas in which the U. S. 24th Infantry fought against the then-victorious invaders in early stages of the conflict.

DeMille Is Improving

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cecil B. DeMille's condition is "definitely improved," his physician reports. The 77-year-old producer was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital last week suffering from a circulatory disorder.

A pair of 'Ice Worms' build their snow hut in Alaska.

USAF Builds Durable Snowman

By TOM McCLARY

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Using volunteer GIs, the Air Force Arctic Aero Medical Laboratory is seeking ways and means to create a super polar man scientifically who may turn out to be more resistant to cold than even the Himalayan Abdominable Snowman.

Taking the volunteers from the Ladd and Eielson Bases, the Arctic Lab had pretty good material to start with. Both bases have winter spells of 50 below zero. However, the volunteers were purposely screened to find those least resistant to cold, and furthermore, in relatively poor physical condition.

The project officer, Lt. Earl J. Heberling, explained that the less resistant volunteers — currently called Ice Worms by their buddies —offered better comparative studies in building men up to full resistance.

That, in terms of a massive polar war, might mean the saving of thousands of lives from cold alone, for extreme cold can be as ruthlessly annihilating as the biggest H-bomb, and over a far greater area.

As example, in their winter war with the Russians, the Finns made no special point of killing an enemy soldier. Their objective was only to slash his clothes or wound him, and leave the cold do the rest.

The Arctic Lab's volunteers took three weeks of preliminary exercises and exposure to the cold room during tests. The test showed that exposure to plus 50 degrees in nothing but shorts was the equivalent to facing zero in proper clothing. Other tests included studies of the heart, respiratory, blood flow, metabolic rate, shivering measurement and studies of precisely what causes shivering and what it accomplishes.

Twenty-two electric thermocouples were attached to the Ice Worms during their cold room shivers to measure the exact temperatures of various areas and glands of the body. One result indicates that the body is not equally resistant nor susceptible to cold throughout. Two adjoining glands may react entirely differently at varying temperatures.

After the indoor buildup, which brought all of the volunteers to about the same level of resistance, they were taken outdoors to live for a month in the cold.

Food was adequate, but they were allowed only one-half hour per day in a heated room, during the period of their one prepared warm meal. Rigid dietary records were kept for one of the aims of the project is the development of foods which impart more, and more lasting, heat to the body.

Tests at this point indicate that resistance to cold is not a thing that can be built up within the blood. At most, the body is only capable of five per cent adjustment. After that, the body is either suffering and deteriorating, or it must be protected by layers of fat, clothing, heat or shelter.

An interesting development of the tests when moved to Cleary summit was that if a pile of snow was packed and then hollowed out for a snow house, the "hole" grew so warm from human heat that it became uncomfortable. In lieu of food and shelter, the men turned into demons of energetic work. Exercise was the only way to stay warm.

Study Shows Fastest Way To Cool Coffee

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—What's the fastest way to cool your coffee, assuming you use milk or cream?

Do you put the cream in right away, or hold off a bit?

Is this academic? It was to start with. But not now.

At Cornell University, in New York State, two coffee-keen professors fell to arguing these points. Their talk was so intriguing that two seniors resolved to get at the scientific truth about it.

For their entire senior year, these two grappled with the poser. They came up with a 78-page paper, complete with formulae, graphs and abstract mathematics.

A brief of their findings tells you that coffee cools faster if the drinker waits a little while to pour in the milk or cream.

Today, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, holding its golden jubilee convention here, gave the bulky paper first prize in its international competition for student papers.

Gun Shot Fatal To Akron Man

AKRON (AP)—An Akron man has died as the result of a double-shooting in which his wife was critically injured.

Police are not certain whether Tyree Hayes, 44, shot himself or was shot by his wife. Hayes had told police his wife, Eula, 32, shot him in the head and then used the gun on herself.

Mrs. Hayes was reported n critical condition with three bullet wounds in her head. She contradicted her husband's story. She said he shot her.

Slender trees rise from ground once bared by shell explosions between Suwon and Osan, south of Seoul. This is one of the areas in which the U. S. 24th Infantry fought against the then-victorious invaders in early stages of the conflict.

DeMille Is Improving

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cecil B. DeMille's condition is "definitely improved," his physician reports. The 77-year-old producer was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital last week suffering from a circulatory disorder.

'Made in Mexico' Movies Gaining Hollywood's Favor

By EMIL ZUBRYN
Central Press Association Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—This capitalis fast becoming a branch of Hollywood, and an important affiliate for the film mecca.

In recent months the influx of American movie magnates and film stars has been stepped up sharply. Hollywood production in Mexico, after a flattering year in 1957 (only six productions), is going ahead at great speed.

So far four films have been completed. By year's end the total may reach more than 20 Hollywood films "made in Mexico." This figure does not include the considerable production for television documentaries and series programs.

A unit from Hollywood films a "horse opera" in Mexico City.

Biggest Hollywood names now are shuttling regularly between the film capital and this city to complete acting chores.

The avalanche of stars includes the top roster of Hollywood, including Tyrone Power, Joseph Cotten, Cary Grant, Joan Collins, Gregory Peck, Jane Russell, Frank Sinatra, etc. More than 20 stars already have been here on various acting assignments for major films. The total for the year probably is running far above 50 of the top names.

Platon Skouras, son of Spiros Skouras, plans to bring Ingrid Bergman here to do a film. He also will use Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra in another epic, and plans to produce at least five films in Mexico before 1959.

Comic Jerry Lewis, with production ambitions, came down to talk things over with Cantinflas (Mario Moreno), Mexico's top comic (known to U.S. audiences for his work in "Around the World in 80 Days") for a film which would unite him with Frenchman Fernandel, Alec Guinness, and other international film comedians in a super-duper comedy musical.

Principal reason for the trend to Mexico for Hollywood producers is the proximity of the republic, the sunny skies and the low production costs. For, despite the fact that Hollywood producers have signed new agreements with the National Association of Actors here, the pay scales for Mexican talent and technicians still are far below the Hollywood union scale.

This interest in Mexico is not one-sided. Hollywood also is looking over the current crop of Mexican stars as potential talent for import and build-up. Maria Felix, first lady of the Mexican screen and highest earner, is being sounded out. Silvia Pinal, a plumpish blond, also may succumb to Hollywood.

Among the male stars are Pedro Armendariz and Carlos Montez Moctezuma, both already having appeared in various Hollywood films as supporting players.

Mexico's film industry is, in general, happy about this. It means work for national personnel. And it is in keeping with the local industry's goal to become international in order to survive.

The international gimmick even may result in five-way co-productions: Hollywood, Mexico, England, France and Germany. Preliminary talks are underway.

Weeky Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The good old summer time is here and shoppers looking for weekend bargains in the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores will find ample evidence of summer's harvest bounty.

Peaches and watermelons head the bargain parade. Crops are the biggest in years, quality is excellent and prices low.

You'll find outstanding buys, too, in cherries, blueberries, bananas, pineapples, melons, oranges, raspberries and lemons.

For a crisp salad on a hot day, you can buy lettuce, endive, scallions, onions, radishes and cucumbers at rock bottom prices. There's also an abundance of cooking greens.

Other excellent buys in produce include tomatoes, peppers, carrots, broccoli, egg plant and asparagus. Also pascal celery from Florida and California, New York state peas, New Jersey snap beans, and Texas onions.

Potatoes, notably the Maine and North Carolina varieties, are among the week's best produce buys.

Vegetable fats and oils are plentiful and cheap right now.

Best news for budget-conscious housewives is word from the U.S. Department of Agriculture that food prices have reached their peak and should soon start going down.

Meat expected to back down from current highs by late summer or early fall. By that time, the experts estimate, prices may be 5 or 10 per cent lower than present levels.

Bargains in meat this weekend are few.

The decline continues a trend begun last month after clamants had reached a record high of 225,433 on April 26.

The number of new claims filed last week, however, increased slightly over those registered the prevous week. A total of 17,017 claims were filed last week as compared with 16,878 previously.

A Look at Big Deal for Ohio

Even with Pokey Travel, Seaway To Have Advantage

...EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series of three articles describing the St. Lawrence Seaway and its effect on Ohio.

By ART PARKS

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—Are you jittery? When you travel, do you insist on going in a hurry?

If you plan to travel from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic via the St. Lawrence Seaway, you'd better take along a big bottle of tranquilizer pills. Otherwise, you're in for a shattering experience.

Your worst time will be around the locks which genely lower your ship to sea level. Water travel is never speedy, at best, but a tension-ridden soul easily can flip his wig while waiting his ship's turn to pass through a lock.

If water travel is so pokey, you ask, then why do we in this supercharged Twentieth Century fiddle around building such things as the St. Lawrence Seaway?

The answer: Money. Even with all its tedium and delay, water transportation is the cheapest kind ever devised by the mind of man.

There is so little friction between the water and the smooth bottom of a big freighter that relatively small amount of power will push the vessel and a tremendous cargo toward its destination.

Remember the pictures you've seen of the one-mule-power canal tow boats of the 19th Century? Remember the little tugboats you've seen pushing or pulling a string of big coal barges on the Ohio River?

Water travel, in cases where the date of a cargo's delivery is unimportant, is a big money-saver.

That is why ships from the Seven Seas are expected to carry 36½ million tons of cargo through the St. Lawrence Seaway-Great Lakes system next year and about 52 million tons a year by 1965.

That is why Ohio's big iron ore and coal ports—cities like Toledo, Lorain, Cleveland, Ashtabula and Conneaut—are expecting a boom in water commerce when the Seaway is ready for full service at the start of the 1959 shipping season.

To understand the Lakes-Seaway system, you must get the proper mental picture. The whole system is like an irregular stairway with Lake Superior at the top and the Atlantic at the bottom.

Mighty Lake Superior—Fed by streams and thousands of springs—is 602 feet above sea level. It's waters flow past Sault St. Marie into the great Lake Michigan-Lake Huron basin. That is a drop of 24 feet. Then, through Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River the water drops another six feet as it flows into Lake Erie.

At the east end of Lake Erie is where Great Lakes water really begins a headlong plunge toward the sea. In the space of only 20-odd miles the water tumbles and boils and plunges 326 feet as it passes through the Niagara River, over Niagara Falls and into Lake Ontario.

Lake Erie is 572 feet above sea level and Lake Ontario is only 246. Ninety of those remaining feet are accounted for at Internatonal Rapids in the Massena section of the St. Lawrence River, the lakes' outlet to the sea. The main part of the St. Lawrence Seaway is in the Massena area. The rest of the 146-foot drop to the sea occurs in a series of rapids in the Montreal area.

Let's retrace our steps to the 24-foot drop at Sault St. Marie. There are locks at the Soo to make navigation possible for the gib ore, coal and grain snips.

.ocks aren't necessary to handle the six-foot drop in the relatively narrow gorge of the Detroit River. The drop, however, does create a good, stiff southbound current into Lake Erie.

But at the eastern end of Lake Erie, there's the Welland Canal, its modern version completed in 1931. Toward the Ontario end of the 27½-mile canal is the city of Thorold whch calls itself the place "where the steamshps climb the mountain." (That's for ships headed toward Lake Erie, of course. For ships headed for Ontario, it could be called the place where ships slide off the mountain.)

In truth, you could walk from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario faster than your ship can pass through the series of eight 800-foot locks.

Ideally, your ship can pass through the canal in seven hours. Twelve hours is more likely. It might take 16 depending on how many ships are lined up waiting to pass through.

But that probably would have seemed like heaven to a ship's captain in the early 19th century. The first Welland Canal, built in 1829, had 40 locks!

Ready to begin operations next week is the new, 10-mile Wiley-Dondero Canal which will bypass the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence. It has two locks—the Esenhower at the west end and the Snell at the east—each capable of lifting or lowering a 25,000-ton ship 45 feet.

Downriver, between Lake St. Francis and Lake St. Louis, Canada is adding locks to the existing 17-mile Beahuarnos power canal. Still farther down, an 18-mile canal is being built between Lachine Rapids and tidewater level in Montreal Harbor.

There end the stair-steps which began at the head of the lakes.

PTA Head Believes Better Education Begins in Home

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite the hullabaloo about the sad state of education in the United States, the new head of the national PTA remains calm, cool and collected.

Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, grandmother of four and a former school teacher herself, is urging that family life get a high priority in future aims of the 44,000 local associations that make up the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

For the 11 million members of the PTA, Mrs. Parker lists three aims:

1. Do anything you can to strengthen American family life.

2. Help in any way you can to make schools more effective.

3. Encourage your local community to develop a community environment that will be healthful for growing children.

Mrs. Parker is handy with inspirational themes, the lifeblood of the P T A Mottoes like "Today we are building tomorrow" roll from her lips as easily as her hands bake a good apple pie.

To her there is no place like home, and her thinking reflects it.

"The home is still paramount in the growth of a child's personality. It is here that he develops his attitude toward life, his ethical and moral standards, his response to the school, his emotional stability," she says.

She believes emphasis on family life may be the key to improvement of education and today's children.

"I think there is a higher emotional reaction to home life now and the sense of home appreciation than there has been since after World War I," she said.

"We have more educated parents than we ever had before; more parents who graduated from high school, so that they are more concerned with their children."

The purpose of a PTA is to bring closer relations between home and school.

But should parents interfere with academic matters?

Whether a school superintendent accepts the opinion of lay people on curriculum is up to him, Mrs. Parker says. "It's amazing to me," she adds, "how people in public office are interested in ideas from people on the outside. If interest is entense enough they will be influenced by it."

Post-sputnik claims that extra-curricular activity in schools bogs down academic studies do not alarm Mrs. Parker.

"I would want to screen very carefully what was taken out of the curriculum and out of the school," she said. "I would guess that because of the current uproar there will be less extra-curricular activity, and I would also guess that parents would not do without sports and general a c t i v i t y of schools. These things weld the school and community into a unit."

EVIDENCE ON TRUJILLO FOE'S DISAPPEARANCE—A call for a new investigation into the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez, scholar and foe of Dominican Republic President Rafael Trujillo, and American flyer Gerald L. Murphy, has been issued by Rep. Charles O. Porter (D) Oregon. In Washington, Rep. Porter obtained some of Murphy's papers from the Justice department. Murphy's notebook flight log bears the name of the missing scholar, who disappeared in New York on March 12, 1956. It is theorized that De Galindez may have been spirited away to Trujillo land in a plane flown by Murphy. Murphy himself disappeared in Ciudad Trujillo nine months later. (UPI Telephotos)

Michigan Begins Big Celebration For New Bridge

STRAITS OF MACKINAC, Mich. (AP)— Michigan started a solid 72 hours of merrymaking today as it dedicated the world's longest and costliest suspension bridge.

With parades and fireworks, thousands touched off the celebration at the Straits of Mackinac, where the new bridge joins Michigan's two peninsulas.

Star of the show is "Mighty Mac" — the five-mile-long bridge, built in 3½ years at a cost of $100 million.

Its 7,400-foot suspension span is longer than any other in the world.

The bridge connects Michigan's two peninsulas at a point where the Straits of Mackinac join Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Ashville News Report
By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

By MRS. ART DEAL, JR.

Members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 786 and their families enjoyed a picnic Tuesday evening, June 17 in the Ashville Community Park. This event marked the 10th birthday of the troop, and was complete with birthday cake and ice cream.

In June, 1948, Mrs. Everett Peters and Mrs. Hewitt Cromley organized the first Brownie troop in Ashville. Mrs. Peters continued as leader for five years with assistance from Mrs. Elwood Morrison and Mrs. Stanley Bowers. A five-year birthday dinner was held in June, 1953, and awards were made to leaders and parents for service to the troop. Mrs. J. E. Courtright and Mrs. Stanley Stout also have served as leaders and the present leaders are Mrs. Chester Hedges and Mrs. Hewitt Cromley.

Since graduating to the Senior Scouting Program four years ago, the troop has worked on the senior 5-point program of camping, service, emergency preparation, the Council and expanding interests, with emphasis on Community Service.

In that connection, the girls have prepared gift baskets for needy families, served as troop assistants, provided a uniform for a Korean scout, sent CARE packages, set up an emergency system, participated in Operation Sky Watch, helped with drives, such as Lily and Poppy Days, and Community Fund, and planted a flower bed in the Community Park.

During the Intermediate Scout Program many proficiency badges were earned in all fields of endeavor. Most of the girls hold the rank of First Class Scout, and have received the Curved Bar, the highest award in Girl Scouting. Eight of the troop recently received 10-year pins, for having been scouts for the entire time the troop has been organized.

A highlight of the 10 years was a trip the troop took to Washington, D. C. in September, 1952, accompanied by leaders and mothers. A major part of the money for the trip was earned through scrap drives, bake sales, cooky and greeting card sales.

* * *

SUMMER camping at Scippo Lodge was an annual event, as was the Christmas party followed by caroling.

This year the troop will enter a float in the July 4th parade, as it has many times in the past. Members have marched in the school band, and participated in other ways in each parade through the years. This will be the final community project as the girls have reached the age limit of Girl Scouts. Several plan to continue membership in the organization as assistant leaders, aides and associate members.

Members of the troop are Mary Jo Bowers, Connie Courtright, Katy Cromley, Roberta Hardin, Jean Lindsey, Kaye Morrison, Dianne Nance, Carole Peters, Beverly Riegel, Elizabeth Sark and Carolyn Stout.

Mrs. Arthur Swingle, Route 2, Ashville, entered University Hospital Tuesday for treatment. Mrs. Jerry Butt is reported to be in "very poor" condition in the same hospital.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: Tuesday, July 17— Took Staff Sgt. Raymond W. Sylvester to Lockbourne AFB, following auto accident in Ashville; Friday, July 20— Mrs. Massey, Goosepond Pike to Grant Hospital; Saturday, July 21—Took Oscar Bumgarner from Home and Hospital to Berger Hospital for treatment and returned to Home and Hospital; and Monday, July 23 took the child of Isaac Keeton, Route 1, Williamsport, to Children's Hospital.

U.S. Officials See Need for Credit Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising concern over inflation has led some key administration officials to consider a revival of standby consumer credit controls.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, it was learned today, is among those who feel it might be advisable to ask Congress for power to regulate down payments and installment terms on autos and appliances.

Anderson and others were described as fearful that the big federal deficits looming ahead—perhaps 10 billion dollars in the year starting July 1—will help fuel the flames or inflation unless the government is alerted and equipped for fire fighting.

Officials want no recurrence of the pattern which followed the 1953-54 recession. The 1954 upturn blossomed into 1955's credit-buying binge. That was followed by a sudden business slump.

A request for standby legislation would mark some shift from the strict anti-control policy of the Eisenhower administration, and Anderson's receptive attitude is a complete reversal of the Treasury's position on the issue.

Let Tomatoes Rot

BREMOND, Tex. (AP) — The bottom has dropped out of the market and farmers are letting tomatoes rot in the fields in this tomato-growing center. They said the 2 cents a pound price isn't enough to pay for picking.

More Layoffs Slated

LORAIN (AP)—Another 75 workers at the American Ship Building Co. yards will be laid off next week and 100 more will be furloughed next month when a gatelifter derrick boat is finished for the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., a company spokesman said. Last week the company laid off 200 workers.

Big Steel Plans Vast Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — United States Steel Corp. is taking advantage of a slack production period to push a billion-dollar capital expansion program, biggest in company history.

Roger M. Blough, chairman, made the disclosure in reporting that directors have formally authorized a $300 million offering of sinking fund debentures to help finance the program.

Blough said the decision to float the issue (one of the largest financing ventures ever attempted by an industrial firm) comes when Big Steel's continuous program of capital outlays is at a record high.

Cuyahoga Value High

CLEVELAND (AP)—The latest valuation for tax purpose of all real estate and public utilities property in Cuyahoga County is $3,820,286,230, according to County Auditor John J. Carney.

During an Air Force experiment in sudden decompression (conditions to which a spaceman would be exposed if his suit was slashed or helmet "bubble" broken in combat) a container explodes. The disintegrating container of fluid could be likened to a spaceman's stomach or digestive system.

Hannahs Hurls No-Hitter in 9-0 Elks Win

David Hannahs tossed the second no-hitter in as many days in Kiwanis Little League action last night at Ted Lewis Park. Wendell Lovett hurled a no-hitter for Stoutsville Tuesday.

Hannahs, twirling for Elks, struck out 17 DuPonters in his 9-0, six- inning stint that was threatened to be rained out at any moment. Hannahs' teammates backed him up with a seven hit attack good for nine runs.

Tom Copeland had three for three which included the only extra base hit of the game, a double.

In Pony League action the Lions were leading General Electric 4-0 in the fourth inning when rained out. The game will be continued tonight.

One other game is on tap for tonight. General Electric will meet Elks at 7:30 p.m. in Mosquito League play.

Indians Play Red Sox Today After Washout

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are going to have to hurry if they want to do better than break even on the first half of the American League season.

With only 11 scheduled games before the all-star game at Baltimore July 9, the Tribe is four games under the .500 mark with a 31-35 record.

They play Boston's Red Sox today, then a four-game series with Baltimore that closes the current home stand.

The Indians must win eight of the next 11 games to wind up with a 39-38 won-lost record for the first 77 games of the 154-game schedule.

Wednesday night's game with the Red Sox was washed away by a thunderstorm. Cal McLish (3-4), who was scheduled to pitch, is the Cleveland starter today against either Ike Delock (4-0) or Dick Sisler (6-4).

Calhoun Seeks Rematch with Bobby Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, after a rousing victory over Bobby Boyd in a bruising 10-rounder, said today he is looking forward to a re-match with the rugged Chicago middleweight.

Calhoun, the No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night and then stood off a tremendous finish by Boyd to score a unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout.

The New Yorker and Boyd expected to iron out the details of a re-match, tentatively slated for Aug. 6 or Aug. 20, at a meeting in the Stadium today. The bout would be held in Chicago.

Calhoun said he played it safe Wednesday night after knocking Boyd down in the second and ninth rounds.

"All I'm interested in," said Calhoun, "is moving up in the middleweight ratings for a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's title."

Columbus Jets Planning Special Activities July 4

A July 4 doubleheader against the Havana Sugar Kings will highlight the Columbus Jets' upcoming homestand. Single games against the Sugar Kings, July 2 and 3 get the homestand underway.

The home stay concludes with a four-game series against Miami. The Marlins appear in Jet Stadium for a single game July 5, a double header July 6 and a single game July 7.

A picnic between games and a fireworks display following the completion of the twin bill will be the features of the July 4 doubleheader. The first game will be a seven-ining contest, with an hour between games.

Fans bringing picnic suppers will be able to check their baskets and other accessories free-of-charge at the stadium. Picnic tables will be provided by the Jet management.

The gates will open at 4:30 p.m., in time for those fans so desiring to have their picnic prior to the first game.

Jackie Pung Is Favorite In Women's Open

DETROIT (AP) —Jackie Pung, the Hawaiian housewife who won, and then lost, the U.S. Women's Open golf title just a year ago, is the sentimental favorite as the field of 57 tees off today in the 1958 Open.

Declared the winner by a single stroke over Betsy Rawls in the 1957 Open, Jackie later was disqualified for attesting to an improper score and Miss Rawls was awarded the championship.

The field, which includes 29 professionals and 28 amateurs, will play 18 hole rounds today and Friday. Ladies par is 37-36—73. The championship will be decided Saturday when the 40 low scorers play 36 holes over the 6,240-yard layout at Forest Lake Country Club.

Six former champions are in the field. Patty Berg, 1946 Open winner, heads the list. Betty Jameson of San Antonio was the 1947 winner, Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, won in 1955 and Mrs. Kathy Cornelius took the title in 1956.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., is trying for her third victory. She won in 1949 and 1952. Defending champion Miss Rawls is the all-time Open winner with three victories.

Kansas City Gags Are Wearing Thin

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

That gag about the Kansas City A's being a New York Yankee farm club in the American League is wearing so thin there are holes in it.

Particularly since it was an ex-Detroit hand who drove in the winning run, a pair of former Cleveland players who batted in two others and an ex-Injun southpaw who was credited with the victory in that 4-3 Kansas City decision over Washington Wednesday night.

It was the only AL game played. Rain washed out the others.

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Milwaukee 10-2. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh 3-1. Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings.

Bill Tuttle delivered the payoff hit for the A's, ramming a single up the middle with the bases loaded in the ninth to crack a 3-all tie. Frank House, who went to the A's from Detroit with Tuttle in the Billy Martin deal of last winter, opened the rally with a double and losing reliever Dick Hyde then walked a pair.

Dick Tomanek (3-3) won his first for Kansas City, getting the final out after the Senators tied it in the ninth on a walk and Albie Pearson's triple off Tom Gorman.

Tuttle, House, Roger Maris and Preston Ward had five of the A's eight hits. Maris singled home the A's second run and scored the first off starter Pete Ramos. Ward who traveled with Maris and Tomanek to Kansas City from Cleveland, homered for a 3-2 lead in the eighth off Vito Valentinetti, purchased Monday by the Nats from Detroit.

"This National League is so tough," insists Manager Bill Rigney of San Francisco, "my guys could win it." Thus far, the race and his Giants have made that boast a toast.

The Giants haven't won two in a row in a month. They haven't had an extra-base hit or a run batted in from Willie Mays in three weeks. And they've played only .333 ball (7-14) since June 1. Yet they've lost only 1½ games to the defending Milwaukee Braves.

They looked better Wednesday night, walloping the first-place Braves 10-2 on an unbeatable combination of breaks, hits and pitching. That left the third-place Giants .002 percentage points behind St. Louis. Both challengers are only 2½ games back of Milwaukee. The Cardinals won their fifth straight, 3-1 at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia avoided a dip to the cellar with a 5-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings.

The Braves failed to make a big thing of four San Francisco errors. They helped the Giants with two boots in a five-run sixth that broke a scoreless duel. Al Worthington gained a 6-3 record, but after blanking the Braves on four hits for seven innings needed relief help.

The Cardinals won their sixth in a row over the Pirates with a three-run sixth that backed up a three-hitter by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

Chico Fernandez rapped a pair of RBI triples for the Phillies, the second breaking things up in the 10th off Don Elston (6-5).

POINTING WAY TO WIN — Charlie Tidwell of Kansas tips the hurdle as he heads for a record-breaking victory in the 220-yard lows at the N.C.A.A. track meet at Berkeley, Calif. Tidwell set a new world mark (around a turn) by covering the route in 22.7 seconds. (UPI Telephoto)

Rain Postpones Softball Tilt

Rain forced postponsement of the Circleville Merchant— Yellowbud softball game last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Providing the diamond is in playing condition, the two teams will meet tonight following a Little League baseball contest.

Two games listed Friday card Laurelville vs. the Merchants and General Electric vs. River Oil.

Tebbetts Has Surplus of First Sackers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts may be shorthanded elsewhere, but in Cincinnati Redleg first basemen, he's got nothing but surpluses.

After Ted Kluszewski, a mainstay at first base, was shipped off to Pittsburgh last winter, the Reds came up with three first-sackers.

Tebbetts figured to platoon his players, but that idea didn't last. George Crowe hammered his way to the top among Redleg batters and his competitors faded out. One —Steve Bilko—was traded. The other, Dee Fondy, was held for reserve.

But the Reds needed Bilko's power so they decided to pick up an American League castoff—Walt Dropo.

And what was his position? First base, of course.

Wednesday night's final game of a series with Los Angeles was rained out.

The high flying San Francisco Giants are due in here tonight for the first of four games with the Reds. Harvey Haddix is slated to start on the mound for Cincinnati, opposing Johnny Antonelli.

Dow To Play In Toronto Tourney

TORONTO (AP) — Playing lineups were announced today for the International Pro-Amateur golf match July 1 at Toronto.

Sixteen players competing in the tournament were placed on two-man teams so that a Canadian amateur and pro meet a United States amateur and pro.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard captains the Canadian squad. Doug Ford heads the American team.

Lineups include Dow Finsterwald and amateur Ed Meister of Willoughby, O., against John Henrick of Ottawa and amateur Eric Hanson of Toronto.

Hilliards Rained Out

COLUMBUS (AP)—Harness racing at nearby Hilliards Raceway was rained out Wednesday night. Dr. Vo is a 2-1 favorite for tonight's featured Class B pace.

Casper, Rosburg Lead Open Play

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—The touring stars didn't exactly take apart the Pine Hollow course in the pro-celebrity competition, but with $50,000 in prizes on the line they can be expected to do a little better in the first round of the Long Island Open golf tournament today.

Only four players broke 70 on the 6,860-yard layout Wednesday. Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg each carded a 67. Jerry Barber and Dave Marr had 69's.

Indians Play Red Sox Today After Washout

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are going to have to hurry if they want to do better than break even on the first half of the American League season.

With only 11 scheduled games before the all-star game at Baltimore July 9, the Tribe is four games under the .500 mark with a 31-35 record.

They play Boston's Red Sox today, then a four-game series with Baltimore that closes the current home stand.

The Indians must win eight of the next 11 games to wind up with a 39-38 won-lost record for the first 77 games of the 154-game schedule.

Wednesday night's game with the Red Sox was washed away by a thunderstorm. Cal McLish (3-4), who was scheduled to pitch, is the Cleveland starter today against either Ike Delock (4-0) or Dick Sisler (6-4).

Missile Plant Workers End 3-Day Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler's guided missile plant prepared to get back to normal production today as a three-day wildcat strike of a United Auto Workers rebel group ended.

Although protesting, members of the Missile Plant Local 1245 voted Wednesday night to accept an order from the UAW international to return to work.

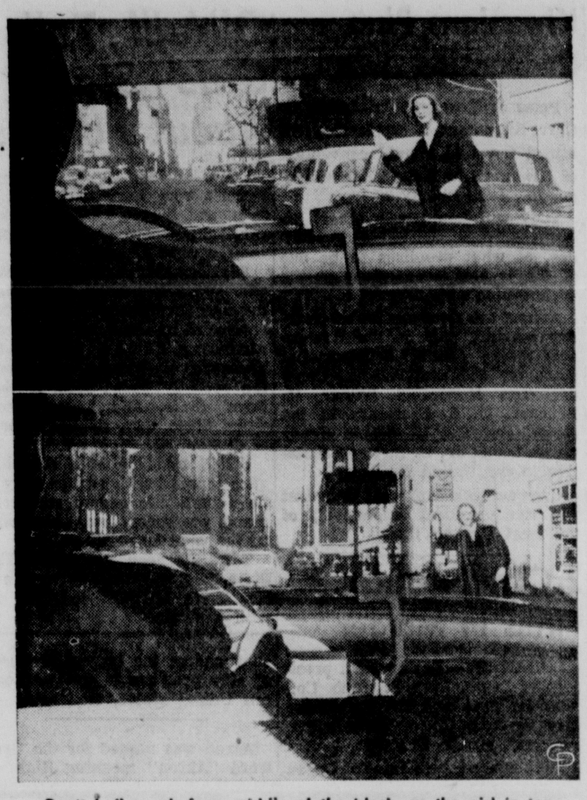
UAW President Walter Reuther had threatened to place the local under an administrator. This could have meant removal of its officers.

Since Monday, the missiles plant had been picketed in violation of the UAW no-strike policy during its present no-contract period in the auto industry.

Assembly of the Redstone missile and Jupiter rocket was crippled even though Local 1245 represents only 450 of the plant's 8,500 workers.

Strikers charged Chrysler discriminated against the union minority group in the plant on job assignments and overtime work. Chrysler denied this.

The world's deepest salt mine is located near Grand River, Ohio, across the river from Fairport Harbor. The salt to be mined at Grand River is of a type that will find great demand in the chemical industry, but about 60 per cent of the production will be channeled into ice control work by manicipalities.



Don't hail a cab from middle of the block, as the girl in top photo is doing. Stepping between parked cars is dangerous and the cab blocks traffic while you are entering it. Go, instead, to the nearest street corner, where cab may pull up to curb.

Alston Hopes To Continue Dodger Streak

CINCINNATI (AP) — The panting pitchers of Los Angeles' Dodgers got a useful rest Wednesday night but that didn't quite satisfy the curiosity of Manager Walt Alston.

He had wanted to see if the team could stay as hot as it was Tuesday night.

The Dodgers overwhelmed Cincinnati's Redlegs in Tuesday's marathon twi-night doubleheader and Alston said, "Your momentum sometimes carries you a bit. The day off won't hurt our pitchers, but on the other hand, while the guys are hot, you like to keep going."

The Dodgers had to shuttle in 11 pitchers in the three games here, and Alston planned to use Fred Kipp or Don Drysdale — although both worked a few innings Tuesday.

The Dodgers' pitching troubles have snowballed recently, but Alston sees a breathing spell ahead.

Educators Told U.S. Youth Has It Too Easy in School

By G. K. HODENFIELD

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The younger generation won't like this, but here's a man who says they've got it too easy in school. He's convinced they need more work to keep their minds from growing rusty.

Dr. Banesh Hoffmann of Queens College in New York says American students have developed lazy mental habits. And he says there are but two cures: Better and tougher teachers, and a different approach to education by American parents.

Dr. Hoffmann, a theoretical physicist, is waging his own one-man campaign against soft education. He hopes to spread some of his theories among the 1,000 other educators gathered here for the 13th annual convention on teacher education and professional standards.

"I demand a lot of my students," he said in an interview today. "I'm tough with them. And when I show them I mean business, I get a lot more out of them. What teachers have to do is first get the student's interest, and then pull him along as fast as possible."

For the development of better teachers, Dr. Hoffmann advocates a full four-year college course of liberal arts, without a single hour of professional education courses. After that, he said, the prospective teacher can have a year of apprentice teaching. During this fifth year he can also take his education courses.

But the best teachers of the world aren't going to get the job done until the American public gets over its mistrust of specialization, Hoffmann declared.

"People think it's bad for their kids to specialize," he said. "They think it makes them narrow. That isn't true.

"If a student digs deeply into even one subject, he'll never be satisfied with shallowness in another. But when you get only a superficial smattering of everything, you never learn the trick of going deeply into any subject."

Jehovah Witness Stakes Life On Objection to Blood-Taking

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP) — "Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: For the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh."—Deuteronomy, XII, 23.

Phillip Peace, 19, of Cincinnati, believes it is wrong to take blood in any form and for any reason. And he's willing to stake his life on that belief.

The youth lies in critical condition at the Hunterdon County Medical Center here today, but doctors say he has refused to accept a blood transfusion on religious grounds.

Peace is a member of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc. (Jehovah's Witnesses).

He was working on the sect's mountain farm in nearby Lebanon Township Wednesday, pitching hay into the jaws of a baling machine, when he apparently lost his footing.

Police said the youth slipped down into the flailing arms of the baler, and both his legs were crushed from the toes to above the knees.

It took the farm foreman, a state trooper and two boys from a nearby camp almost an hour to extricate Peace from the machine.

State Patrolman Charles Chappell of the Clinton barracks said the flesh was entirely ripped from the bone of the youth's left leg.

He was rushed to the medical center, where emergency surgery was performed.

Peace regained consciousness soon afterwards and refused to accept a transfusion.

Doctors contacted the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peace, in Cincinnati, but hospital authorities said the parents, "altnougn advised of the seriousness of the situation, have also refused to allow the medical center to give transfusions to their son."

The hospital officials added that the youth's wishes "are being respected at this time."

Adrian DeBoer, 43, manager of the farm where the youth worked, approved of Peace's decision refusing the transfusion.

"The Bible gives plenty of proof that we cannot take blood in any form," he said. "There are some very good substitutes which have been used effectively."

DeBoer added:

"We would rather die than break God's law."

Lifelong Exercise Best for Health

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It's a long life of physical activity, not the few years of exercise by the athlete, that builds up protection against heart attacks, a University of Kentucky doctor said today.

All three components of the aging process—decline in efficiency, decline in physique and decline in health — are staved off by sustained physical activity, Dr. Ernest Jokl told the American Medical Assn.

"An exercise regiment that confines itself to a few years of intensive training will not thus be effective," he said.

Educators Told U.S. Youth Has It Too Easy in School

By G. K. HODENFIELD

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The younger generation won't like this, but here's a man who says they've got it too easy in school. He's convinced they need more work to keep their minds from growing rusty.

Dr. Banesh Hoffmann of Queens College in New York says American students have developed lazy mental habits. And he says there are but two cures: Better and tougher teachers, and a different approach to education by American parents.

Dr. Hoffmann, a theoretical physicist, is waging his own one-man campaign against soft education. He hopes to spread some of his theories among the 1,000 other educators gathered here for the 13th annual convention on teacher education and professional standards.

"I demand a lot of my students," he said in an interview today. "I'm tough with them. And when I show them I mean business, I get a lot more out of them. What teachers have to do is first get the student's interest, and then pull him along as fast as possible."

For the development of better teachers, Dr. Hoffmann advocates a full four-year college course of liberal arts, without a single hour of professional education courses. After that, he said, the prospective teacher can have a year of apprentice teaching. During this fifth year he can also take his education courses.

But the best teachers of the world aren't going to get the job done until the American public gets over its mistrust of specialization, Hoffmann declared.

"People think it's bad for their kids to specialize," he said. "They think it makes them narrow. That isn't true.

"If a student digs deeply into even one subject, he'll never be satisfied with shallowness in another. But when you get only a superficial smattering of everything, you never learn the trick of going deeply into any subject."

Jehovah Witness Stakes Life On Objection to Blood-Taking

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP) — "Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: For the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh."—Deuteronomy, XII, 23.

Phillip Peace, 19, of Cincinnati, believes it is wrong to take blood in any form and for any reason. And he's willing to stake his life on that belief.

The youth lies in critical condition at the Hunterdon County Medical Center here today, but doctors say he has refused to accept a blood transfusion on religious grounds.

Peace is a member of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc. (Jehovah's Witnesses).

He was working on the sect's mountain farm in nearby Lebanon Township Wednesday, pitching hay into the jaws of a baling machine, when he apparently lost his footing.

Police said the youth slipped down into the flailing arms of the baler, and both his legs were crushed from the toes to above the knees.

It took the farm foreman, a state trooper and two boys from a nearby camp almost an hour to extricate Peace from the machine.

State Patrolman Charles Chappell of the Clinton barracks said the flesh was entirely ripped from the bone of the youth's left leg.

He was rushed to the medical center, where emergency surgery was performed.

Peace regained consciousness soon afterwards and refused to accept a transfusion.

Doctors contacted the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peace, in Cincinnati, but hospital authorities said the parents, "altnough advised of the seriousness of the situation, have also refused to allow the medical center to give transfusions to their son."

The hospital officials added that the youth's wishes "are being respected at this time."

Adrian DeBoer, 43, manager of the farm where the youth worked, approved of Peace's decision refusing the transfusion.

"The Bible gives plenty of proof that we cannot take blood in any form," he said. "There are some very good substitutes which have been used effectively."

DeBoer added:

"We would rather die than break God's law."
